'Mine Union Is Not in Contempt Of Court,' Says Judge

Keech's Ruling

UMW Not to Blame
For Work Refusal

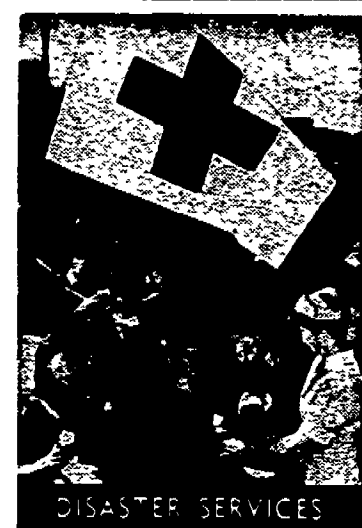

Washington, March 2—(AP)—The United Mine Workers today were found innocent of contempt of court in the 25-day soft coal strike.

Federal Judge Richmond B. Keech, who heard the case without a jury, announced a verdict of "not guilty" on both the civil and criminal contempt charges.

The judge said that he had considered the government's petition and "found on the record" that the charges of contempt of his Feb. 11 back to work order were not supported.

The union had contended that it was in no way responsible for the refusal of the miners to work. Its defense was that the 372,000

Truman Pledges Cooperation in Spy Ring Probe

Washington, March 2—(AP)—President Truman said today he is perfectly willing to cooperate with a senate inquiry into charges that there is a Communist spy ring in the State Department.

At the same time, Mr. Truman told his news conference that the question of turning over loyalty files on government employees to the investigators is one that he will pass on when he gets it.

The senate foreign relations committee has set up a special investigating group headed by Senator Tydings (D-Md.) to look into the charges by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) that there are Communists in the department.

With a touch of sarcasm, Mr. Truman said that if people wanting to rid the government of disloyal persons, are earnest and have the welfare of the country at heart, the proper person to bring the complaints to is the president of the United States.

Star Witness Says Doctor Killed Woman

Manchester, N. H., March 2—(AP)—The state's star medical witness said today that he believed Mrs. Abbie Borroto was killed by an air injection in her veins administered by Dr. Hermann N. Sanders.

Dr. Milton Helsen, deputy medical examiner of New York City, gave his testimony as the state neared the close of its first degree murder case against the 41-year-old country doctor.

At the end of a long hypothetical question, Dr. Helsen said:

"In my opinion death was caused by an air embolism resulting from the injection of 40 cc's of air."

That is the amount of air the state charges Dr. Sanders injected into Mrs. Borroto's arm last Dec. 4 in a gesture of mercy to end the agony of her cancer.

Dr. Helsen said:

"The basis for my opinion is that 40 cubic centimeters of air represents a substantial quantity if injected rapidly and would be carried into the heart and pulmonary artery."

"Our faith in His coming is strong enough to cause us to build a house that will stand the ravages of time and the weather for a thousand years," Nicholson said. "Our beliefs come from reading the Bible."

Mrs. Nicholson died Tuesday. Like her husband, she was not affiliated with any religious denomination.

Woman Who Hoped to Live For Coming of Christ, Dies

Maryville, Tenn., March 2—(AP)—A fatal throat ailment had ended an elderly woman's hope of living until Christ returns to earth.

So strong was the belief of Mrs. William A. Nicholson, 72, and her husband that they would witness Christ's second coming that they built a 14-room house designed to stand a thousand years.

The house, made of stone, marble and cement, has 18-inch walls, floors five feet thick, and a three-foot thick roof.

When the structure was finished in 1946, Nicholson explained that he and his wife based their faith in being alive at Christ's return on the fifth chapter of

One-Half of GI Dividend Checks Have Been Paid

Washington, March 2—(AP)—GI life insurance refund checks have now been written for more than half the veterans who have gotten in their applications for shares in the $2,800,000,000 dividend.

Officials said today a tabulation at the close of operations yesterday showed the treasury had mailed checks to 7,153,804 of the 14,221,000 men and women who have applied.

The checks came to a total of $1,275,836,886.21—an average of about $180 each.

Voters Must Register by Mar. 14 Here

Voters who wish to mark ballots for candidates in the April 11 primaries must be registered under the Permanent Registration act and in the office of the county clerk.

Those who have reached the age of 21 since November 2, 1948, those who have moved, and those who changed names after marriage need to register in order to vote.

All registered voters who changed residence within the county must arrange with the county clerk to transfer their registration.

Those who moved from one county to another cannot change registration; they must register all over.

Qualifications of voters are that they must be citizens, native-born or naturalized, 21 on or before April 11, a resident of the state for one year, the county ninety days, and the precinct 30 days. They must also be registered.

Tuesday, March 14, 1950, is the last day to register if you want to vote in the primary.

Janet Blair Given Divorce, No Alimony

Los Angeles, March 2—(AP)—Janet Blair won a divorce yesterday on grounds of cruelty. She said Lou Busch, record firm executive, preferred golf, poker and gin rummy to her company and cooking.

They were married in 1943. They have no children. She did not ask alimony.

Wouldn't You Call It Vicious Circle?

Buffalo, N. Y., March 2—(AP)—Workers in a coal yard built a fire under a gondola to thaw a frozen shipment so they could unload it.

The first ignited the coal. Water put out the fire—and refroze the coal.

Embarrassing, Of Course, But Wee Bit Funny!

Seattle, March 2—(AP)—Solomon Perper told friends that he'd undergone an operation to prevent him from becoming a father. Then, a few months later, his wife became pregnant.

Feeling themselves subject to scorn from the neighbors, the Perpers filed a $70,000 suit against their physician Dr. Rex Palmer.

Yesterday Superior Judge Robert M. Jones dismissed the suit.

"No one is obliged to tell friends and neighbors such most personal matters," the judge said. "He (Mr. Perper) is in no position to complain."

"No doctor, unless he is a quack, guarantees a permanent cure for any person, because of the complexities of the medical science, and the differences among individuals," he said.

Eviction Last Straw, Mother Turns on Gas, Ends Six Lives

West Orange, N. J., March 2—(AP)—Mrs. Arlene Kraeutler, 36, turned on all the gas jets, police said, and then lay down to die. She took her five children, ranging in age from eight months to 17 years, with her.

Police found all the victims of the tragedy in their nightclothes yesterday afternoon. They listed the death of the mother as suicide.

Only the husband, William Kraeutler, 40, survived. He had left for work early in the morning.

Police said they found this note from Mrs. Kraeutler to her husband in a dresser drawer:

"Dearest Bill:
"Forgive me, but I cannot stand to be evicted and also my illness and the debts we had in the last year are too much to bear. I don't know what the future has in store, so this is the best way out."
"Love, Arlene."

Police said the owners of the building recently sold it to a member of the owners' family and had served eviction notice on the Kraeutlers.

One of the children was still breathing when police forced their way into the two-family house. He died within an hour.

In one bed on the second floor of the duplex apartment Mrs. Kraeutler was found clutching her two youngest children, Gary, eight months, and Carol, four, all dead.

In the next bedroom were the bodies of Trudy, 17, and Lois, 12. At the foot of the stairs 15-year-old William was found unconscious and slumped against the front door. He apparently had tried to escape the gas, but soon died.

The ex-government girl and the Soviet engineer have been on trial in federal court since Jan. 24.

Fuel Problem Acute; Mercury Climbs Friday

Five O'clock Retail Closing 'Catches On'

While miners and mine owners continued to jockey for advantages in the national coal squabble sub-zero temperatures dug into Dixon's low fuel supply.

Thermometers at INU turned in a raw 4 below zero at 7 a.m. today and four hours later, had risen to only 2 above.

Although no relief for fuel problems is in sight, weather forecasts indicate warmer temperatures. The prediction for tonight is "continued cloudy and cold," with a low of zero to 5 above. Tomorrow, however, thermometers are scheduled to rise to 30, with a low tomorrow night of 20-25.

Both residential and commercial fuel users continued with wholesale shifts to oil. Heating crews in Dixon are installing oil burners around the clock, with some service being ready for users in four hours.

The Hotel Nachusa completed its conversion to oil heat today. Medusa Cement plant cut operations in the face of the coal squeeze, but no layoffs or reductions in the work-week were reported.

Wednesday afternoon, a citizens' committee met with Mayor J. Fred Hoffman to crystallize plans for substitute fuels and to cut present power and coal consumption even more.

The committee asked private clubs in Dixon, including all fraternal, veterans, social and civic organizations, to trim activities as much as possible.

Committee members also asked clubs running bars to follow the pattern set by the tavern-keepers Wednesday and to close down the bars at 10 o'clock.

The contemplated wood stockpile at Second street and Van Buren avenue was scheduled to start operations this afternoon. Superintendent of Schools A. H. Lancaster said he was diverting the first load of wood for Dixon high school to the city's emergency project at Second and Van Buren.

Private dealers, meanwhile, were cutting and hauling wood to buyers who're empty coal bins.

One prominent local organization gave $50 which will be used to pay for the first load, estimated at two or three tons. Money from the sale of the first load will be kept constantly in motion buying more loads.

Navy Flying Boat Ditched; Save Crew

San Juan, Puerto Rico, March 2—(AP)—A navy flying boat, seeking an "invasion fleet" in wide-scale American maneuvers, was ditched in the Atlantic early today.

All ten men aboard were rescued from life rafts in the rough sea a short time later. All were reported in "good condition."

Both engines of the PBM quit, and the pilot ditched the plane about 300 miles north of Haiti.

Two navy surface craft made the rescue, according to radio reports reaching here.

The PBM was on night patrol in the joint maneuvers of the navy, army, air force and Marines. Eighty thousand men are participating, with their headquarters here.

Democrats Planning Rally Around Truman

Chicago, March 2—(AP)—Democratic party leaders from across the country plan a three-day conference in Chicago in May, with President Truman a probable speaker at a big rally.

The political powwow, aimed at stirring up campaign enthusiasm, is booked as a "Jefferson Jubilee," making the 150th anniversary of the third president's election. The conference will be held May 13, 14 and 15. Mr. Truman has been invited to address a rally at Chicago stadium the closing day.

It's Quaint at That, But Hot on Sitter's Sitter

Rome, March 2—(AP)—An angry husband in Parma took vengeance on his unfaithful wife by seating her naked on a red hot stove Rome newspapers reported today.

The husband, 25 years older than his bride, found her with a youthful lover when he returned unexpectedly from a trip, the dispatches said.

The woman was reported seriously burned. The Dispatches omitted names.

L. E. Canfield Buys Transit Company Here

L. E. Canfield of Dixon, has acquired controlling interest in the Dixon Transit Company and will take over active management of the City Bus Lines on March 3, it was announced today. Mr. Canfield acquired the stock in the corporation which was owned by several "report residents and under whose management the local bus lines have been operated during the past year and a half.

Mr. Canfield also announced that the service would continue without interruption and in compliance with the city franchise and Commerce Commission regulations.

Mr. Canfield has also acquired the controlling interest in the Twin City Transit Company which operated city bus lines in Sterling and Rock Falls and will assume management of them at the same time he takes over the Dixon Company. He stated that he was hopeful that with the operation of both companies he would be able to furnish better service and equipment to the citizens of both communities.

He asks for the full cooperation of the citizens of the City of Dixon in helping him make the local bus service meet the requirements of the community.

Fire Levels Farm Equipment Plant

Streator, Ill., March 2—(AP)—Fire last night destroyed a one-story spray paint shop at the Myers-Sherman Farm Equipment Manufacturing plant.

Robert Myers, plant official, estimated damage at $3,000. He said he believes the blaze started from a defective heating unit.

The shop, a frame structure, was independent of the main plant, and the flames did not spread. No one was in the shop when the fire started.

Ask Roadhouses to Cut Power, Hours

Roadhouses in Lee county are under the obligation to follow the same power cuts as taverns in Dixon, according to John T. Emmitt, chairman of the Lee county board of supervisors.

Emmitt, who is also Lee county liquor commissioner, said roadhouses also are requested to cut business hours as Dixon taverns have done to conserve power and coal during the current emergency.

Truman Says He'll Never Go To Moscow While He's 'Boss'

Washington, March 2—(AP)—President Truman said today he will never go to Moscow as long as he is president but will cooperate in any move to preserve the peace.

Mr. Truman told his news conference he is for any plan to utilize the United Nations in preserving the peace.

He did not comment directly, however, on a proposal by Sen. McMahon (D-Conn.) for the western powers to work out a program for peace.

Mr. Truman made clear that his cooperation will never involve any

Proposed Plan Already Drawn By Government

Action Is Expected Hourly at Capitol

Washington, March 2—(AP)—President Truman said today a draft of plans for seizure of the coal mines has been drawn up. But he did not indicate when or under what circumstances it might be used.

His news conference comment came when he was told that there was a report around Washington that the government was prepared to seize the mines unless the union and management reached an agreement.

The president said the matter was still in the hands of the courts and that he had nothing to say about his plans.

Told of a report that a seizure draft of some sort had been prepared, the president said drafts are always prepared covering all the president's powers.

To Follow Law
Mr. Truman said that he would follow the law to the letter in an effort to break the coal strike.

He did not elaborate on that. However, there is a provision in the Taft-Hartley law for a report to congress when emergency pro-

WHEAT MINERS WANT

Washington, March 2—(AP)—While the terms offered by the union and the operators in the coal dispute have never been made public officially, they reportedly break down this way:

The United Mine Workers are said to be seeking:

A wage increase from the present basic rate of $14.85 a day to $15 or more. A 15-cent boost in the present 20-cent-a-ton royalty paid by the operators into the miners' welfare fund. A work day of 7 1/2 hours, instead of the present 8 hours.

The mine owners are understood to have proposed:

A "package" increase of about 30 cents a day per miner, as opposed to the union's demands, estimated to total over $1.80.

cedures under the law fail to end a threat to the national health or welfare.

The president said the situation is very serious.

President Truman, in response to questions, confirmed at a news conference today that seizure plans have been drawn up. Deprecating their significance, he said plans are always drafted, covering all the president's powers.

But one report was that the plans were completed only yesterday and were designed specifically to deal with the present situation. The Washington Evening Star said the administration plan is to ask congress for a law permitting seizure if all other efforts to get coal production have failed by early next week.

Assistant Attorney General H. Graham Morrison told reporters in response to questions that he had

The only information available was through the Czech news agency, since western reporters were barred from attending the trial.

Ohio's Mayor Keeps Word, Ousts Commercial Gambling

Ohio — This Bureau county town's mayor, 64-year-old Charles Smith, who in his retirement from farming has taken up local politics, pledged anew today that he will keep Ohio clean of commercialized gambling.

He recognizes, Smith said, that his is a hard battle, one he will have to fight virtually alone, since he has lost patience with Sheriff Henry Keutzer and State's Attorney Calhoun Phelps. Because of the experience he has had with them since assuming office last April, he knows he can't count on them for aid, Smith declared.

Several days ago Smith took matters into his own hands when he heard gambling had returned to Ohio, that it had "come up" in the town's three taverns the very day he returned from a vacation in California.

"Some people who had been around these places told me that lucky jars were up again," said Mayor Smith. "So I warned the operators of the taverns that I would not have it, that they'd have to clean out gambling."

"They told me they didn't have to clean out, that they were protected," he declared.

AM Day Staff

Determined to run out gambling, Smith went to Princeton and obtained information from the state's attorney who, he said, "took all day" to make them out.

On the strength of the information, a deputy sheriff visited the three places and found gambling evidence in Edward Loan's and Steve Gorman's. But the word apparently had been passed to the third operator, Harry Etheridge, the mayor said, for when the deputy got there he found no trace of gambling. Etheridge got a clean bill.

Loan was fined $125 costs on his plea of guilty before Judge Horace A. Brown, in county court.

What has happened to the case against Gorman however, Mayor Smith doesn't know. Gorman, he understands, has hired a Princeton lawyer, Josef Skinner, to fight the case. If Gorman is convicted again it will be his third "trap" and under state law he will have to surrender his tavern license.

Mayor Smith, who ran for office on an out-and-out anti-gambling platform and received more votes than both of his opponents together, was asked what Sheriff Keutzer told him in his past pleadings for assistance to keep Ohio free of gambling.

"I wouldn't want to tell you over the telephone," replied the mayor, implying Keutzer was far from enthusiastic about the idea.

About Keutzer stepping in and helping him, Mayor Smith said: "He just doesn't dare to."

"I don't know what to think about him," he answered when queried about State's Attorney Phelps' attitude.

"But you can get a good idea of where he sets when I tell you it took him all day to make out those informations for me," Smith added.

Mayor Smith said that until he became mayor of the town there always was gambling in Ohio, but he means to see that era come to an end.

He regards his election to the mayorality on the anti-gambling platform as a mandate from the people of Ohio to chase out vice, Smith asserted.

The Globe-Trotting Costume Is Versatile

Good foundation for a spring wardrobe is the costume that can double as coat or dress. Thin gray worsted makes the full-skirted coat-dress (left) which is styled with "lampshade" sleeves and is fastened with silver buttons. Checked wool coat-dress (right) has a double-breasted closing, slim skirt line and a convertible collar. Cuffed sleeves are set into a dropped shoulder line.

New York—Destined to be as popular with the spring traveler as a cruise ticket is the coat-dress. Even if "traveling" is no more than a trip downtown, this versatile costume combines the easy-fitting comfort, good fashion design and adaptability to changing wardrobe needs which a would-be globe-trotter prizes.

This accommodating garment can serve as a lightweight coat over slim dresses, or buttoned up the front it makes a trim, tailored dress. Variations on this design theme are seen in most of the collections. Fabrics used are usually wool ranging from tissue sheer worsteds to heavier checked weaves.

A coat-dress styled by Margi for a narrow silhouette is of a heavier checked wool. A dropped shoulder line sloping from a deep collar accentuates the slim lines of the skirt. The convertible collar buttons at the back for a high-climbing effect or, unbuttoned, it lies flat around the neck. A double row of buttons covered in matching fabric fasten the front closing.

That U. S. Payroll in DeKalb County

The idea is common that the great growth of the federal government is strictly a Washington affair. But the truth is it goes right to the country's roots in town and country.

Yet seldom does anybody bother to substantiate the fact with good figures. John Strohm, writing in the current issue of Country Gentleman, has just done so for one U. S. county in one field—agriculture.

He chose DeKalb county in Illinois as his test-tube area. To start off he asked 25 top farmers how many federal hired hands they thought were in their midst. Their average guess was 56. Strohm's investigation showed there were actually 178 part-time or full-time federal employees who either lived in DeKalb or visited it regularly.

In 1949 these 178 were paid from $8 a day to $5350 a year to tell the county's 2500 farmers what they ought to do and what they could or could not do. Government services performed in DeKalb cost the U. S. $86,065, not including the federal part of the salaries of 55 workers who live outside the county.

It took 65 people some 580 man-days to sign up DeKalb's farmers in the agriculture department's conservation program, check their performance, tabulate results and pay out $35.01 to each participant. But 96 per cent of the farmers surveyed said they would have followed the prescribed practices even without the program and payments.

For offering technical advice to 95 farmers, 3.8 per cent of those in the county, the Soil Conservation Service, which is independent of the conservation payment agency, rolled up a bill of $14,040 last year in DeKalb. That was $147.68 apiece.

Strohm found ample signs of the overlapping often pointed to in federal operations. There are two youth groups, whose members frequently belong to both organizations. Yet two-thirds of farm boys and girls are reached by neither.

Three, and in some cases five government agencies give farmers free guidance on crop rotation. Yet 100 DeKalb farmers have put up $40 each to hire their own farm management consultant.

There was evidence, too, that the government isn't always in touch with local needs and conditions. Several farmers reported that alfalfa was the best soil-enriching crop that could be used in DeKalb, but said no conservation money would be paid for using it. The Agriculture Department insists they rotate with clover instead.

The statistics would be even more striking elsewhere. DeKalb isn't a typical county. It has fewer federal workers than most counties of similar size. Those it has do a better-than-average job. For example, one agency spent only 9 per cent of its funds for administrative purposes last year. The average in Illinois has 14 per cent and in some places 20 per cent.

Still, the price paid for the various federal services looks high. Sooner or later the nation will have to take a hard look at this set-up and decide whether there may not be a sounder way, a way that will produce more value per dollar. A lot of the farmers themselves already have misgivings about existing arrangements.

Said one: "What bothers me is that we collect these taxes, send them to Washington, but get only a few dollars back. It's like a DeKalb county farmer giving himself a blood transfusion from one arm into the other—and spilling a couple of quarts of blood in the process."

THE DOCTOR SAYS

RH Factor Causes More Talk Than Difficulty

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

What is this mysterious Rh factor of the blood about which there are so many bridge-table discussions?

It is a substance of obscure nature which about 87 per cent of us have; these are called Rh positive while the 13 per cent who do not are said to have Rh negative blood. These two kinds of blood do not always act favorably on each other.

When a person with Rh negative blood is sensitive to Rh positive blood, a severe reaction with chills and fever can develop from a blood transfusion of Rh positive blood. Also if an "Rh negative" mother (but only one who is sensitive to Rh positive blood) carries an Rh positive child, the child may have a disease called erythroblastosis fetalis; such a child becomes jaundiced and ill.

Men or women who are Rh positive have little to worry about. However, if an Rh negative man were given several Rh positive blood transfusions he might get undesirable reactions.

An Rh negative woman can be sensitive to Rh positive blood in one of two ways: by blood transfusion of Rh positive blood or by carrying a child with Rh positive blood. The first can be avoided by not giving Rh positive blood transfusions to an Rh negative person.

If both parents have Rh negative blood, the child will always be Rh negative and no trouble will come. If the father has Rh positive and the mother Rh negative blood the child may be Rh positive and therefore react badly with the mother. However, the first child (and often others) of an Rh negative woman married to an Rh positive man will almost always be healthy unless the mother has received Rh positive blood transfusions previously. These blood transfusions should be watched.

SLIM CHANCE
Only one woman in from 25 to 50 with Rh negative blood who has an Rh positive husband becomes sensitive to the Rh factor and gives birth to a baby with erythroblastosis. Even if this should occur, transfusions of blood to a baby with erythroblastosis will save the lives of a large proportion of such infants.

Here is a summary of the situation:
Both parents Rh negative—nothing to worry about.
Both parents Rh positive—little to worry about.
Father negative—Mother Rh positive—nothing to worry about.
Father Rh positive—Mother Rh negative—occasional difficulty.

Dr. Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week. Watch for it.

Hollywood — (NEA) — Dorothy Lamour gave up her sarong four years ago with the cry that she was "sick of being typed" and that she wanted to play more serious roles. But if Paramount has its way, Dottie will be back in a sarong by summer. The studio is talking to her about a big-budget South Sea musical.

A news magazine's report that Glenn McCarthy may be "strapped for cash" despite his huge oil resources adds weight to a Hollywood rumor that there is an oil payoff to stars playing the Emerald Room of his Shamrock Hotel in Houston. Expensive talent like Edgar Bergen, Dinah Shore and Frank Sinatra don't work for peanuts.

Columbia studio, with fingers crossed, is planning on Rita Hayworth's return to Hollywood in April, with a possible movie slated for summer production. She's reading three scripts sent to her by the studio several weeks ago.

There's a bookmaker in town taking bets on the Oscar race. He lists Kirk Douglas, Brad Crawford and Richard Todd as even money.

COLONEL LESLIE, SUN
It's now Kentucky Colonel Joan Leslie. She's hostess for the U. of Louisville basketball team, here for a series of games with Loyola. . . . John Ford and King Vidor are way ahead in a Screen Directors' poll of 300 film critics who were asked to vote on the 10 best directing jobs of Hollywood's first 50 years. . . . Eve Arden goes serious without a single comedy line in "Three Husbands." . . . Margo Wood, who quit the screen to have children, is resuming her career. She's the wife of agent Bill Burton. . . . The Gary Coopers will tour Europe in June — Gary's gift to Mrs. C. on their 16th wedding anniversary.

Adelle Jergens says she was strolling across RKO lot when a messenger boy barked at her. "Riffitt, riffitt." "Is that a wolf call?" she asked.

"Naw," said the messenger boy, "that's Rosellini spelled backwards."

There's a new pill on the market claiming to "restore the patient's emotional equilibrium and normal outlook on life." Just what Hollywood needs.

James Mason figures he's now a man of movie distinction — he wears a raincoat for a scene in "U.S. Death on a Sledge." . . . "After all," he told me, getting his tongue caught in this cheek, "it's an actor's ability to wear a raincoat with a flare of indifference that makes him versatile." Or don't you remember the appearance in raincoats of Colman, Cagney, Bogart, etc.?

NO CLOCK-WATCHER
There are no hands on any clocks in the backgrounds of "A White Rose for Julie." It's a long time eccentricity of director Johnny Farrow. He claims audiences never notice clocks anyway and they cause too much trouble because they have to be set and reset for every scene. Farrow once argued this point with a studio boss, who claimed thousands of fans would write in pointing out a movie boner.

Farrow proved his argument. He put six hands on a clock in one of his pictures. Not a single person wrote a letter of complaint.

Doris Day will star in Mac Benoff's script for Warners, "We're Working Our Way Through College." . . . Tom Tully, just signed by Fox for "Where the Sidewalk Ends," was given by mistake a feminine biography form to fill out for the publicity department. His answers:
Age: Almost as old as Jack Benny.
Color eyes: Hazel with little red lines now and then.
Hair: Beginning to be distinguished.
Waist: Smaller than some.
Bust: Most of the time.
Hips: Once.

How times change department: In an old movie, on TV the other night, the actor playing the role of a district attorney had one line — "Take 'em away, boys!" In the final scene, I doubt whether the viewers even recognized him as Lee Cobb, the star of "Death of a Salesman."

Edmund Grainger, who produced "Sands of Iwo Jima," will not do another service film. He says:
"If the Army or Navy couldn't put two for heroics, how can Hollywood do it?"

Cecil D. DeMille plays himself in the new Paramount flicker, "Sunset Boulevard," and gives a fan performance. In fact, one fan's preview card read:
"I liked the actor who played DeMille the best."

Charles Lindbergh Flew Two Bombing Missions During War in Pacific Area

Washington — (NEA) — Hiroshi Takada, one of the Japanese consuls, visiting Washington to learn how democracy works, being a political party known as "The Green Breeze." When U. S. Sen. H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey was in Japan last summer, he asked about the origin of the name of this party. He was told that after the war a number of Japanese felt there should be a fresh wind, "a green breeze," blowing over Japan's troubled political affairs. Senator Smith's comment was that maybe the United States could use something like that, too.

Waiting for a New Shipment?

Another of the Japanese delegation, Takizo Matsumoto of Hiroshima, is a Harvard graduate who taught English at Japan's Meiji University. One of his students, he relates, got a job in a Tokyo department store. One day two GI's came into his store. They were lost and they couldn't find anyone who spoke English to direct them back to the American consulate. With a big smile, Matsumoto's ex-English student told the two GI's: "Wait here. Will you find out." He disappeared toward the store's office, and they waited what seemed an awfully long time. Then the student returned full of apologies. "So sorry," he said, "American consulate just out of stock."

Just in Time for Dinner

Many city and state delegates to the Law Enforcement Conference were extremely irked that Department of Justice officials ordered the sessions closed to the press. Several of the local officials got around this by distributing copies of what they had said behind closed doors to reporters waiting outside. The local officials were also disappointed because the conference was limited to one day. Most of them thought that the problems they had to discuss with the attorney general were important enough to warrant a conference lasting several days.

Principal beef of the out-of-town law enforcement officials was that Peyton Ford, the assistant to the attorney general, took up too much time with his own observations. The delegates thought the purpose of the conference was to let them air the problems of their home towns and states.

Big byproduct of the conference, of course, was that it got a lot of local politicians into Washington for the Democrats' $100-a-plate Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner.

Proved Themselves Loyal for $100

Speaking of that dinner, it was a lobbyist's paradise. Nearly every pressure group and business interest doing business with the federal government had at least one executive there. Aviation company representatives were all over the place. So were representatives of law firms that do big business with federal regulatory agencies. Many of them brought as guests officials from their pet agencies, and paid for their tickets. That way the hosts got credit for being good guys, even the officials got credit for being good, loyal Democrats without having to contribute the $100. And though they were known to be anti-Fair Dealers or even Republicans, they were a beautiful sight. But as one Washington manager of a German restaurant remarked after looking over those 5,000 fillet mignons in the wholesale butchers', "If I charged my customers $2.85 for that meat, they would complain."

Economize Please — But Not With Us

American Farm Bureau Federation has put out another big economy letter, calling attention to the dangers of deficit spending and increasing the public debt. Farm Bureau's own contribution to economy is a proposed cut of $24,000,000 in next year's Department of Agriculture budget. It would cut $2,000,000 each off soil conservation, research, forest service and crop insurance; $4,000,000 off flood control, and $12,000,000 off Farmer's Home Administration, which helps poorer farmers.

Then the Farm Bureau tells what appropriations it is for: $83,000,000 direct appropriation subsidy for the school lunch program; $34,000,000 for restrictive marketing quotas; $19,000,000 for marketing research; $7,000,000 for experiment stations and the same amount for extension of rural electrification and rural phones. The Farm Bureau also opposes increases in parcel post and second-class mail rates which affect farm publications and rural deliveries. These increases are intended to help the Post Office Department balance its budget and reduce its debt.

Showed the Youngsters How

The story of how Charles A. Lindbergh flew on two bombing missions and actually dropped bombs during the war in the Pacific has just been told for the first time by his old friend, Lauren D. Lyman. Lindbergh was assigned to the Marines as a technical representative to observe the performance of Chance Vought Corsairs in the field. Lindbergh was then "an old man of over 40"—15 years senior to most fighter pilots.

But one day in the Pacific he showed the youngsters what kind of a flyer he was by a curving takeoff with a 3,000-pound load and a full load of ammunition for four .50-cal. machine guns against a 14-knot cross wind and in a gusty rain squall.

He climbed steadily and waited his turn at the target, a radio station on Woltje. Then, in Lindbergh's own words, he "maneuvered into position rolled over at 8,000 feet and dove on the radio station at an angle of about 60 degrees."

He released his bombs at 1800 feet. He was still "grayed out" when the bombs exploded, but a moment later took a look at the damage. It was almost a direct hit.

Next day Lindbergh took off with a 4,000-pound load—probably the heaviest ever carried up to that time by a single engine fighter. His objective was a small concrete blockhouse. At 8,000 feet, he pointed downward at 85 degrees, the steepest angle he had ever used with a heavy bomb load.

So great were the forces set up that Lindbergh didn't have strength in his right hand to hold the sight on the target. "With a lighter load," Lindbergh recalled later, "I could have pulled out and made another dive, but it seemed inadvisable with 4,000 pounds of bombs."

When the period of grayout was over, he looked down. He had apparently missed the blockhouse, but he had wiped out one portion of the main naval gun installation in that area.

Don't Let Dame Fashion Lead You by Your Nose

Most women get a big kick out of going through the family snapshot album and marveling at how funny they used to look in "those awful clothes" and "those terrible hair-dos."

They can get the same kind of laugh by studying the latest copies of the high fashion magazines.

Gone is the softly curved feminine-looking creature who has modeled feminine fashions for years. In her place is a string-bean type, all jutting angles instead of soft curves. Her hair is chopped off, flattened-out mess, her clothes like shapeless bags.

But her laughter at these unfeminine-looking creatures wearing unflattering clothes is likely to stop abruptly as she realizes that she isn't looking at her past—but at her own future.

What she is growling and giggling at today—she'll likely be wearing and looking like tomorrow.

THE SELF-CENTERED AND THE SELF-DISRUPTED
The law upon which individuals and groups and nations break themselves when they become egocentric is this: "Whoever will save his life shall lose it."—concentrate yourself on yourself, and that self will go to pieces, not only spiritually, but mentally and physically as well.

The reason for this is obvious. The three driving urges or instincts within us are self, sex, and the herd, or social, instinct. The self instinct is obviously self-regarding; the herd instinct is other-regarding; the sex instinct is partly self-regarding and partly other-regarding. So there are just two driving instincts—the egocentric and the altruistic, the self-regarding and the other-regarding. Both of these must be fulfilled—and fulfilled in the proper proportion—or life will be frustrated and unhappy.

There are those who think that Christianity teaches that they must love others, but not themselves. This is a mistake. Christianity teaches self-love: "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." If you did not love yourself, you would not develop yourself. So all attempts to eliminate the self end in hypocrisy and disaster. If you put yourself out of the door, it will come back through the window, probably in disguise. Frankly and honestly you must love yourself—not as a master, but as a servant; for the self is a glorious servant, but a gruesome master. Those who love others and not themselves, allowing others to sap the life out of them, end in disaster. On the other hand, if one organizes life around himself and becomes self-centered, then, as sure as fate, disaster overtakes the self. No; by the very inherent judgment from heaven upon that life? The person is at war with himself. His altruistic instinct is frustrated and undeveloped; hence the person is dissatisfied and unhappy. He probably doesn't know what is the matter with him. The malady is simple—he is a house divided against itself, and hence cannot stand. Every self-centered person is trying the impossible—to live against himself.

No; God, my father, I see that Thou hast wrought Thy laws into the texture of my being. How foolish for me to run against those laws and think I can get away with my folly! For I cannot get away with myself. Forgive me the folly of warring with myself and hence with Thee. Amen.

FROM FORMER CHICAGOAN
Dixon Evening Telegraph
To the Editor:
Ho, Hum! Shades of Charley McCarthy! I've had so many words put into my mouth by some of your contributors that I know just how Charley must feel. In fact I feel as though I might be his sister. Bergen, would you be interested?

I'd bow out of this column for good if only people would stop implying that I have written things, that I never, at any time, in any letter, actually did write. Some of their misstatements I just shrugged off, but my shoulders are tired now, and along comes "Dixon Homemaker" to top everything with the implication that I, at some time or other, said I wanted or expected an invitation to church by a pastor or a member of some congregation. That's ridiculous! I'm sure I never wrote anything that could possibly have been interpreted as suggesting such an idea.

Never Questioned Others
Nor did I in any letter, prior to this, ever question anyone's reason for going to church; but she must have gathered that I did, for she asks, "Why do we go to church?" and goes on to say that it is to honor God and not to attend a social gathering. If anyone did suggest, in this column, before now, that church was a social gathering, it was not I.

I hadn't asked before but I'm really curious now, about the question. Why do we go to church? I wonder why most people do attend, or what reasons, (if the truth were told) most of them would give in answer to that question. It might be an interesting question for one of these inquiring reporters to ask.

Answers "Homemaker"
I'd like to discuss that answer "Homemaker" gave — concluding with the statement that church isn't a social gathering. After my first resentment, because of her presumption that I had at some time implied that it was a social gathering, I began to wonder if it wasn't just that, after all. Okay, so I am one of those nasty people who always want to disagree with everyone! Nevertheless I do want to take the affirmative side of that statement now. I didn't say it before but I do now. What is church if not a social gathering? Anytime a group of people meet and join together in a common interest or activity, that is literally a social gathering. Then what is church but that? Isn't it a group of people joined together in Christian fellowship to worship God? Do you stand corrected "Dixon Homemaker" or do you have a rebuttal?

"Homemaker" also says I should go to church because I know it is my duty to do so. Sorry, but I take exception to that statement, too. (Disagreeable, 'aint' it?) It should be a joyful privilege—never a duty! Tch tch! "Homemaker" I don't think attending through a sense of duty is very commendable of you. Nor do I believe it is my duty to attend church. Duty to whom?

Not to God: for He doesn't require or request me to go to church in any of His Commandments, nor in any of the Scriptures that I can find. But in Ecclesiastes 11:3, it does say, "Fear God, and keep His commandments: for this is the whole duty of man."

Not to myself: for I can honour and worship the Lord, work for Him, follow His teachings, even find salvation without attending church.

Why Go to Church?
Why then would I attend church? I might go because I wanted to hear a good sermon, or felt the need of prayer, or wanted to worship God. Do any or all of these seem to be sufficient reason to you, "Homemaker"?

I can only say that if they were my only reasons for attending church—it would not be necessary then for me to go at all. Not for hearing the Gospel: for modern science has enabled us to hear that in our own homes via radio.

Not for prayer: for according to Matthew 6:5, 6, we are told not to pray as the hypocrites pray, standing in church so others can hear, but to enter into our closets and "pray to our Father in secret." So if I chose to pray alone at home, none could rightfully condemn me, could they?

Not for worship: for in James 1:27 we learn that church isn't even necessary for that. It says in one translation: "For the worship that is pure and holy before God the Father is this: to visit the fatherless and the widows in their affliction, and that one keep himself unspotted from the world." No mention there of church, is there?

No, "Homemaker." I would go to church for those things I could find nowhere else. That is, Christian fellowship, and social contact with others whose religious ideas are the same as my own.

Gives Her Reason
When I do attend church, therefore, it will be because I want to worship God in fellowship with others, and because I want to take my stand with Christians, as opposed to "those who are of the world."

I will not expect, nor want—nor will I wait for—an invitation, either. You may be sure of that. A Former Chicagoan

CORK FALEY FOR MINERS
To: Voice of the People
Someone once said, "Brevity is the soul of wit." Mr. Griffith said, "Please be concise." I shall do my best to comply with his request.

In the early Eighteenth century the working man was subjected to nearly unbearable working conditions, being paid barely enough to keep body and soul together.

Children as young as 8 years of age worked in coal mines and textile mills. They worked from 12 to 16 hours a day for three shillings or a little more per week.

When they returned home from work at night—late at night—they would sometimes fall asleep while eating supper. They were dressed in the morning by the mother while still asleep. Then the mother would wake them, oftentimes only after vigorous shaking, before sending them back to their intolerable drudgery.

If they were late for work they would be beaten. If they lagged behind during the day they'd be beaten again. Crying could be heard almost constantly. These things happened in England.

Then Marx shouted, "Proletarians of all countries, unite! You have nothing to lose but your chains!" But his method of rising up was wrong. He wanted the workers to claim the factories as their own, dividing the wealth equally.

In 1842 Parliament passed a law forbidding children under 13 to work in coal mines. A law concerning mills was passed previous to this.

The factory owners looked about, blinked their eyes, concluded that the workers had not much more than chains to lose. So out of pure kindness they began to improve the working man's lot.

Eventually labor unions were formed. The working man grew from a virtual slave to a powerful individual, a power necessary for his continued well-being.

Then came the Taft-Hartley law. It takes a wee bit of power from the unions, not a great deal but some. It is undesirable because it is a step in the wrong direction.

This brings us to the present coal strike. The miners want fifteen dollars a day. Why not give it to them? Would any of you people dig coal for less? If so, I suggest you rush to the pits and dig.

Would you force the miners to return to work, at the point of a gun if necessary? Would this be an example of freedom of enterprise? Would it be an example of democracy in action? Wouldn't it amount to slavery? I believe it would.

Let's not give the miners shackles. Let's give them shekels instead.

KIND DIXONITES

Dixon Evening Telegraph
Dear Sirs:
Some time ago I read an article in the "Voice of the People" by a Chicago man and I thoroughly agree with him and I was born and raised here. Then was gone 30 years. On coming back I was almost a total stranger and still am. My face and fortune isn't the best so don't attract people easily. But the few I have met know better friends the longer I know them, so maybe you and I haven't met too many people here. And naturally the people are so busy they don't realize how other people feel that are strange and would like to be friendly. They aren't all thoughtless. Here is something that happened today.

Not ten days ago the Lutheran church had brought to their attention an old member of their church who is unable to attend and is almost a complete shut-in, so they sent her a radio. There is no words of mine could express the pleasure and gratitude this little lady has shown. She was so happy. Everyone here was so glad to see her so excited. She couldn't express herself enough. Her excitement went something like this: now isn't that grand; not even relatives, and they give me the nicest present I ever had. I am so thankful and happy I want my Sunday school class to know; also Rev. Curran and the Telegraph too. You see she is Miss Caroline Winder, 87 years old and almost blind.

Diggers Acted On Their Own, Keech's Ruling

verted not by mere suspicion based on failure to obtain results, but by clear and convincing evidence, if they are to be ruled by a court of law to constitute only a token compliance.

Evidence Lacking

"It was testified on behalf of the union that no union funds have been used to aid striking miners since issuance of the temporary restraining order. There was no attempt to disprove this testimony."

Thus Judge Keech ruled that while he was not saying that the union had tried to comply with his strike end order in "good faith," the court had no evidence that the union had disobeyed the order.

John L. Lewis, UMW president, twice sent back-to-work orders to the miners after Keech's Feb. 11 stop strike order was issued. In effect, Keech said the weakness of the government's case was that it had made no showing that Lewis was not in earnest when he sent these instructions to his union members.

Asks Prayers in Catholic Church, Council Dispute

Geneva, Switzerland, March 2—(AP)—Dr. W. A. Visser't Hooft, secretary-general of the World Council of churches, called on all non-Catholic Christians today to "pray that the Roman Catholic church may be led to a wider and deeper conception of Christian unity."

He made the statement in a comment on the instructions issued in Vatican city Tuesday by the Supreme Congregation of the Holy Office for Catholics on attending church union congresses with non-Catholics.

Dr. Visser't Hooft said the issuance of the instructions was a clear indication that the World Council of churches "has begun to make its influence felt among the clergy and laity of the Roman Catholic church."

The World Council of churches is made up of more than 100 Protestant and orthodox Christian churches. It has been boycotted by the Roman Catholic church. The Catholic clergy was not permitted to take part in the council's international meeting in Holland in 1948.

In general the instructions from the Catholic church laid down two chief directives: That union meetings be used to spread Catholic doctrine among non-Catholics, and that Catholics who attend should be careful to safeguard their own faith.

The instructions did not bar contact with other Christian groups, but said the only true union of Christian churches lies in their return to the Roman Catholic fold.

ODDITIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

CUBS 'MARKET' GETS JOBS

Jacksonville, Fla., March 2—(AP)—There is an unusual "cub market" here—for humans. No one seems to know how it got started but each morning, at one street corner, a large number of workmen assemble, carrying their lunch boxes. They seem all ready for a day's work, but they just stand, waiting.

Then a truck will pull up, the driver will shout a couple words and a number, and some of the waiting men will scramble aboard the vehicle. This is repeated by other trucks until perhaps a major portion of the men is gone. The corner is the market for a fair amount of Jacksonville's unskilled labor.

If construction business is not so good, there may be few trucks of a morning. The men usually hang around the corner until about midmorning. If no job shows up, they go home.

COPS NO TAX EXPERTS

Chicago, March 2—(AP)—A letter addressed to the Chicago police commissioner set forth:

"I do not know how to make out my income tax. I made in 1949 $1,233.19 and $15.20 was withheld out. Would you please figure this out for me?" In reply, a clerk told the writer, a woman, that some other public servants would help her if she went down to the post office.

SKELETON IN THE IMPORTS

Chicago, March 2—(AP)—A new Chicago import directory shows that, among the many things shipped from abroad, are human skeletons, Irish shilleaghs, greave cakes and Swedish hard-tack.

CORROSION COST STUDIED

Lake Success, N. Y., March 2—(AP)—Corrosion costs the United States five and a half billion dollars a year. This report to the United Nations Scientific Conference on the Conservation and Utilization of Resources is made by Herbert H. Uhlig, Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The United Nations released this report in advance of the conference which begins August 17. Biggest single loss is paint, at $2,045,000,000. This total is $585,000,000 worth of paint and 1,400,000,000 worth of labor to replace the paint. Second largest loss is corrosion in your auto and other internal combustion engines, $1,030,000,000. Third is $600,000,000 for underground pipe maintenance and replacement.

WISHING WELL HAS SERVICE

Malacca, Malaya, March 2—(AP)—Every Friday from 1:00 p. m. to 6:00 p. m., a Chinese woman keeps vigil over a wishing well in Malacca.

Those who go to the well bring with them such offerings as fruits, candles and incense. The guardian of the well then commences burning the incense and candles and chanting weird prayers. When the chanting stops, devotees are given a bottle of water from the well and are asked to drink it so that their requests may be fulfilled.

BASHFUL ROBBER

Chicago, March 2—(AP)—A robber walked into the Mid-west Savings and Loan Association, pulled out a pistol to keep the 12 people in the place at bay, picked up $1,000, and left. While he was at work, he kept repeating: "Don't look at me."

LIZARD GOES BY MAIL

Centerville, Md., March 2—(AP)—Incoming mail bags at this village postoffice the other week contained one green, three-inch, very dead lizard. There was no tag on it.

SAILOR'S COCKTAIL CALLED CHAMP

London, March 2—(AP)—Ex-Sailor Eddie Hopkins is world's champion cocktail maker—British version—on the strength of a concoction named for his old boss, Lt. Commander John S. Kernans of the famous Frigate Amethyst. He won the honor and a flock of prizes at the British hotel, restaurant and catering exhibition here.

His cocktail consisted of gin, creme de noyaux, grand marnier, orange cordial and angostura bitters.

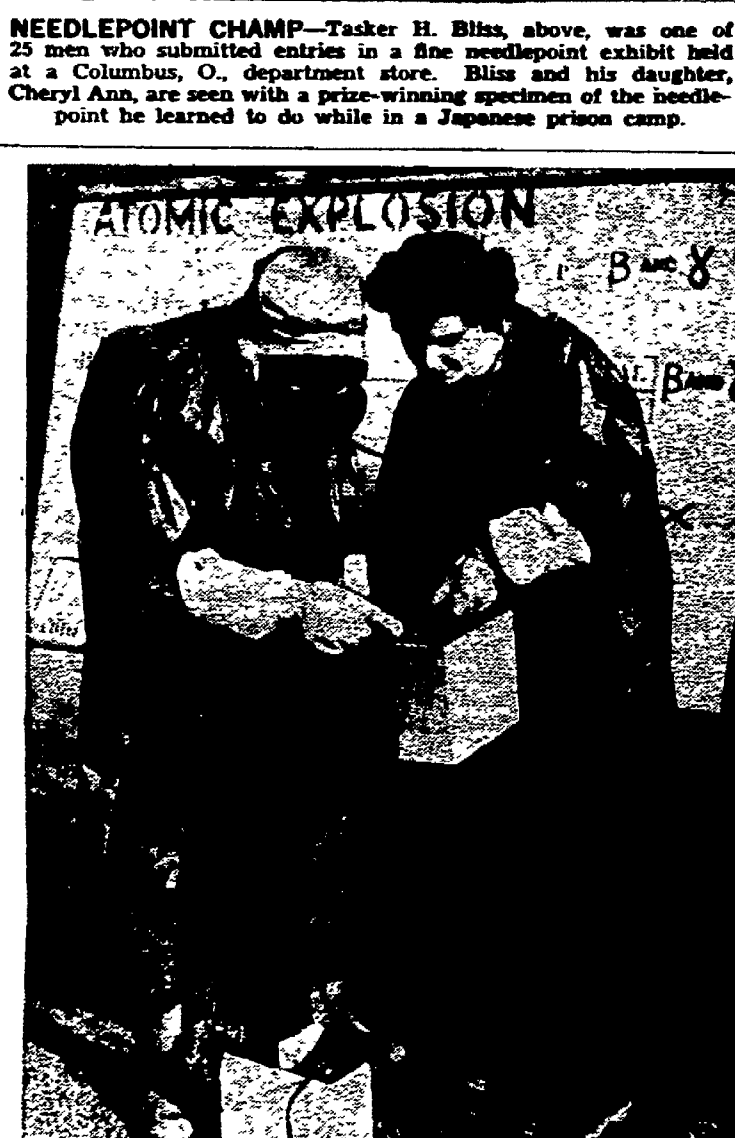

FIND HER UNDERGROUND

Mulhouse, March 2—(AP)—When the police of Alsace caught up with Paul Becker, wanted on 13 charges of burglary and armed attacks, they found him living in a special subterranean hideout built underneath his mother's house in the forest of Saint Morand. Becker had a trained watchdog to warn him whenever a stranger approached the house. He then entered a closet which gave access by a stairway to his underground apartment of two rooms. An electrically-operated trap-door closed behind him and an avalanche of old clothing fell to the bottom of the closet covering his means of exit.

The word mausoleum is derived from the name of King Mausolus, who built a lavish tomb in ancient Caria, in southwest Turkey.

NEEDLEPOINT CHAMP—Tasker H. Bliss, above, was one of 25 men who submitted entries in a fine needlepoint exhibit held at a Columbus, O., department store. Bliss and his daughter, Cheryl Ann, are seen with a prize-winning specimen of the needlepoint he learned to do while in a Japanese prison camp.

A IS FOR ATOM—Chief Petty Officer William Walker of Portsmouth, England, gives a lesson on use of the Geiger counter for atomic protection to WREN Sheila Withington, right. The WREN is a student in the school for atomic warfare safety in Portsmouth. Both student and instructor wear latest type protective clothing.

'Bundling' May Come Back As American Institution

"Bundling" may be on its way back as a bona fide American institution if the current coal controversy is not settled soon.

Welsh, Irish and Scotch immigrants carried the custom of bundling with them across the Atlantic. In the first half of the nineteenth century, historians noted the custom in New England, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

According to Webster, bundling means "to occupy the same bed without undressing," and it was practice of courting couples before gas stove, oil heat, electric heaters and blankets, hot water bottles, thermostatic controls and automatic stokers made the custom obsolete.

The word almost disappeared from the American scene, although countless school children have run across it in the writings of Washington Irving.

Historians also noted that the Dutch had a similar custom, called "gisting."

Whatever its name, it was a way to escape frostbite, to avoid the one-sided heating horrors of log fireplaces, and to dodge drafts from cracks in log cabins.

Now, in days of unheated bedrooms, cold apartments and hotel rooms where you can see your drug-store owners have yet to report shorter business hours in the commercial field. All barber shops in Dixon have also agreed to the 5 o'clock closing.

The only excess lights used last night were on Galena avenue, one a theater marquee (partially lit), and the other a slide arrangement for advertisements on top of the Stables, 87 S. Galena.

Mayor Hofmann, at the citizens' meeting yesterday, said he was in touch with a regional director who had jurisdiction over a reported 400 tons of coal at Green River Ordnance plant. The mayor added he would know tonight or Friday if any of the coal at Green River could be requisitioned for use at KSB hospital, now left with only a five-day supply.

Hospital Superintendent Agnes Florence said today she had been promised one car-load of coal and that another was on the way.

Army Offers Coal

Associated Press reports today indicated the army would offer its surplus coal to any area where it would prevent "human suffering."

Gen. Stephen J. Chamberlin of the Fifth Army headquarters in Chicago sent telegrams to the governors of 13 states Wednesday offering the coal for emergency use.

Headquarters said it had a 22-day reserve on hand in the Fifth Army area, which covers 13 states in the Middle West.

No further action on the army offer has been reported. Today, though, Mayor Hofmann was reported to be on his way to the Green River plant, presumably in an attempt to ease Dixon's critical fuel condition.

Truman: Continue All Rent Controls

Washington, March 2—(AP)—President Truman said today he still thinks rent controls, now due to expire next June 30, ought to be continued for another year.

That was the only comment he would make at a news conference on moves in congress to let the controls die.

The senate appropriations committee voted $2,600,000 for the housing expediter's office last week, but added a "rider" saying the office should wind up its rent control duties by June 30.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

To Mrs. Harold Willis on Friday.

Today's Lenten Meditation

"Give ear to my words, O Lord, consider my meditation. Hearken unto the voice of my cry, my King, and my God: for unto thee will I pray." (Psalm 5:1, 2). Read Psalm 5:1-8.

In the book of Psalms the prayers include practically every phase of human experience that touches daily life. Yet the prayers do not deal with trifles. Whether in adversity, severe affliction, captivity, suffering, craving for fellowship, the shadow of old age, death or in health and prosperity, the prayers offer thanks to God for His many blessings.

Those who did the praying were surrounded on all sides by those who worshipped the many gods of paganism. It is of the credit of the Israelites that they held fast to their faith in the one God. Their prayers were always directed personally to Him.

Without the prayers in the Psalms, based upon Hebrew prayer life and experience, the world would be deprived of much inspiration. The religion of this people expressed itself in joy and thanksgiving.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Daily I will make my life a prayer-psalm to God.

HOW OUR ELECTION SYSTEM MAY BE CHANGED

Each state would get the same number of electoral votes it has at present.

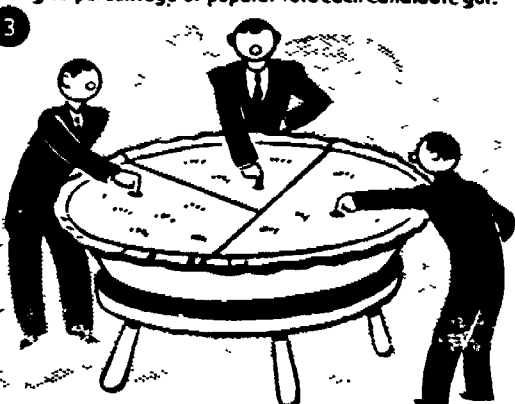

Two for its senators, one for each of its representatives.

Now, it's winner take all. Candidate who carries state gets all its electoral votes.

ASSEMBLY LINE techniques, of which Henry Ford was the outstanding pioneer, gave American mass production tremendous impetus in the first half of the Twentieth Century. High-speed, assembly-line production was applied not only to autos, but to almost every line of industry. America's general prosperity and high standards of living, most people will tell you, are based on American mechanical "know-how" applied to mass production by means of labor-saving machinery. Much of our food, our kitchenware, our Bibles, our furniture, our vitamins and sometimes even our houses are turned out on the assembly line. Foreigners from all over the world journey to this mecca of industrial civilization to marvel at how it's done and to pick up a little of the "know-how."

There's a Moral for All of Us in the Klaus Fuchs Case

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

There is a tragic lesson in the case of Dr. Klaus Fuchs, naturalized British subject who has been convicted in London of betraying Anglo-American atomic secrets and has been sentenced to 14 years in prison.

The moral is that anyone who subscribes to Communism or the Soviet brand pledges his loyalty to Moscow, irrespective of his nationality.

Fuchs was a German subject who fled Nazi persecution in 1933 and was given refuge in England. He was a brilliant physicist.

Dr. Fuchs had become a member of the German Communist party in 1932 and he clung to this ideology. Naturally the time arrived when Moscow put the finger on him and demanded that he divulge the atomic secrets of America and Britain.

Split Personality
As he himself has said he split his personality into two parts, one loyal to the west and the other paying devotion to Communism.

In this uncertain state of mind Dr. Fuchs deliberately betrayed the land which had given him refuge. And he divulged top secrets of the United States which is an ally of Britain.

When the law finally caught up with him, Dr. Fuchs said why, yes, he had given the secrets to Russia. We are not told whether he fully recognized the enormity of his crime at that time.

Did Dr. Fuchs fully realize all this when a Red agent first cornered him and demanded the atomic secrets? Or is Fuchs one of those cases whose minds are ideologically wool-gathering most of the time?

Utopian Ideal
There are a lot of folks who, when mention is made of Communism, think in terms of the somewhat benevolent brand of the ism which existed long ago. That was a Utopian ideal in which the members of the community lived in brotherly love and shared equally—one for all and all for one.

It's a far cry from that Communism to the creed of the present day Bolshevism. The current brand calls for one world, and the capital would be Moscow, with the sovereignty of all nations resting in the Kremlin.

Ex-State Employee Faces Rebate Trial

Chicago, March 2—(AP)—Trial of a former state employee charged with accepting a rebate in a state fair contract was set yesterday for March 13.

The defendant, C. J. De Govia of Springfield is accused of accepting a 15 per cent rebate from a Chicago display firm which had contracted to build an $18,500 state fair exhibit in 1947.

Criminal court Judge Donald S. McKinlay fixed the trial date after denying a defense motion to quash the indictment.

Byron, Ashton Score Wins at Mt. Morris

STERLING TOWNSHIP CAN SIT BACK and watch with interest the Dixon-Rock Falls clash tonight. Regardless of which team goes into the finals, the Golden Warriors have a night of rest to add them in the championship fight Friday. They probably rate the nod as the favorite to advance to sectional play. There are no certainties in basketball however, and either the Ducks or the Rockets could upset the dope.

DIXON AND ROCK FALLS HAVE much to think about if they are to plan tonight's contest. A look ahead toward the title bout with Sterling could end the chances of either. The Ducks barely edged the Rockets last Friday night by a 36-37 score. The home floor advantage wasn't evil, but then... We doubt if it will be tonight.

LOOKING AROUND THE REGIONALS, we observe four teams left in most of them. Freeport goes against Stockton tonight and should wind up in the final game tomorrow night. If so, they will play the winner of the Orangeville-Lena tilt, also on tap for tonight. The Pretzels should win their own regional. East Rockford plays a semi-final game on its own floor tonight against little Stillman Valley of the Route 72 conference. The Rabs are favored to make it into the final against West Rockford Friday night.

FOUR STRONG TEAMS ARE PAIRED in the Mt. Morris regional tonight. Rochelle may have its hands full with Oregon's Hawks. Rochelle won an earlier encounter on their home floor. They were matched in every quarter but the second in taking a 53-52 win at that time. Oregon has improved steadily since then. Byron meets Ashton in the second semi-final. The Tigers downed Polo last night and shouldn't drop this one to the Aces. They've won two Route 72 games from Ashton this year. The Mt. Carroll tourney has only one game tonight. Savannah's five play a Pearl City quintet that has been surprisingly strong all through tournament play. They won the Shannon district and bounced Lanark out of regional play.

SHORT CLIPS FROM THE WIRE... The pinch on coal is forcing the transplanting of the Central track and field meet. It has been switched from Michigan State college to Notre Dame. Michigan State had been a long-time host to the affair but lacks the coal to handle the 23rd annual renewal of the meet.

BIG GUNS OF THE WESTERN CONFERENCE swim. ming meet are poised for tonight's opening. Estimates are that no single league power can match the caliber of the Ohio State Buckeyes.

MANAGER FRANKIE FRISCH is so elated with the first showing of his Chicago Cubs that he has called a camp game for Sunday. Frisch says the Cubs' big weakness is pitching and adds he'll make some corrections in that department at once. Johnny Vander Meer, 35-year-old pitcher, caught Frisch's eye.

HEAD FOOTBALL COACHES were named at three colleges yesterday. Lloyd Jordan, athletic director at Amherst college, was named head football coach at Harvard. Frankie Slavich, former all-America at Georgia, signed as head coach at the University of Tampa. Bob Snyder, backfield coach at Green Bay last season, has been named head coach at Toledo.

Tigers Whip Polo With 21 In Last Period

Mt. Morris—(Special) — Byron and Ashton, both of the Route 72 conference, scored wins in the Mt. Morris regional last night and will meet in a semi-final encounter here tonight. Rochelle plays Oregon in tonight's first contest.

Coach Dick Haselton's Byron five couldn't find the range until late in the game and very nearly dropped the tilt to an improved Polo outfit.

Coach Bob Breckenridge had the Marcos fired up for the game and they took an 11-7 lead over Byron in the first period. Jerry Weaver, Byron's 6-6 center, had four fouls in the opening minutes and was forced to play it easy throughout. The Tigers tied the game at 13-all, but Polo took over again and led 20-18 at halftime.

The Haselton crew narrowed the margin to 30-29 as they went into the fourth period.

It was the last eight minutes that decided the game. The Tigers found the touch they needed and flashed to 21 points while holding Polo to four. Dick Swanson and Cecil Dillow contributed six and five points respectively in the push.

Jerry Weaver led the winners with 15 points. Harms and Atchison hit 10 each for the Polo quintet. Byron had 67 field goal attempts to 51 for the losers.

The Ashton Aces revenge themselves on Leaf River by dumping the Blue Demons by a 42-29 score. Coach Paul Craft's quintet used heavy scoring in the second and fourth quarters to chalk up the win.

Gene Krug continued to spark the Ashton play and turned in a 20 point performance. Patton added a basket and six free throws. Leaf River's Miller and Stykle collected 10 points apiece in a losing cause.

Ashton must now meet the Route 72 champion, Byron, for a chance to get into the finals.

Rollo, Hebron And Argo Drop From Regionals

Flora, Collinsville and most other major contenders stayed on the Illinois prep basketball title trail last night by winning handily in regional tournament tests. Johnston City, Marion, Peoria Spalding, Dupo and Crystal Lake kept pace, but a number of small district tourney survivors led by previously unbeaten Riverton were shunted to the sidelines.

Riverton's surprise 43-38 loss to Niantic in the Decatur meet was its first in 26 contests this season. Rollo, perhaps the smallest district outfit to reach the regionals, succumbed 49-47 to Marseilles at Ottawa. Rollo, a DeKalb county school, has 23 pupils enrolled.

Semifinals in 59 of the 60 district tourneys will be completed tonight, setting up tomorrow's championship games for berths in next week's 15 downstate sectionals. The Springfield regional named both finalists last night. Flora's Wolves, sixth ranked state crown prospects in the Associated Press poll, walloped Olney 56-36 to gain the finals in its own tournament. Teutopolis is expected to emerge as Flora's opponent for the trophy.

Collinsville advanced to the semifinals at home with a 63-58 decision over Alton. Johnston City moved up at West Frankfort with a 73-42 verdict over Galacia and Dupo won a closer shot at the Belleville trophy by chalking up its 23rd triumph in 24 games 49-30 over East St. Louis.

At Pekin, Peoria - Spalding stretched its record to 19 wins and four losses with a 63-32 rout of Manito.

Marion's Wildcats served notice they will be difficult to oust at Herrin, where Murphysboro also competes, by walloping Carbondale 91-33. The Wildcats and Murphysboro are expected to face each other in the finals.

In the tough Elgin regional, Crystal Lake and Dundee matched the host club's Tuesday win. Crystal Lake smothered Palatine 68-34 for its 26th victory in 27 outings. Dundee earned the right to meet the Lakers in the lower bracket semifinals with a 54-43 conquest of Hebron.

The biggest upset of the night saw Leyden of Franklin Park sidetrack Argo 66-56 at Cicero. Argo's Argonauts, who had copied 17 of 21 decisions, had been figured as a possible stumbling block for Morton.

Joining the victory parade with other favorites were Pontiac, Sterling, Moline and West Rockford. Pontiac made the title game at Dwight with a 59-47 verdict over Coal City, its 13th straight triumph.

Sterling advanced at Dixon by trouncing Sterling Community 55-43. Moline trounced Erie 68-40 at East Moline and West Rockford made the championship game at East Rockford with a 71-54 win over Belvidere.

The dopesters look for Moline to collide with Rock Island and East to square off with West Rockford in the payoff duel on its own floor.

Sterling Elks Gain, Close Series Lead

Sterling Elks three cushion billiards crept closer to the top in the tournament series being played with teams from the Dixon and Sterling Elks clubs.

The Dixon green cloth experts fell Tuesday evening and now lead with 46 games to Sterling's 39 as the contest nears its close.

At Dixon, Brothridge beat Dy-sart, Dixon, 25-23; Black bested Hasselberg, Dixon, 25-18; McGraham, Dixon, won from Dugan, 25-18; Whitebread, Dixon, took Brothridge's measure by a count of 25-19, while McGraham, Dixon, won over Black, 25-20.

In contests at Sterling, Devine took the measure of Al Nelson, Dixon, 25-19; Milt Hull of the Dixon team won the only game for the locals, when he defeated Walton, 25-22; Nelson, Dixon, lost to Knapp, 25-6; and Evans downed Hull, Dixon, 25-15 in the closing game.

Rehfeldt Needs 29 Points in Final to Tie Wier's Record

Chicago, March 2.—(AP)—Don Rehfeldt of Wisconsin, the Big Ten's leading basketball scorer, must score 29 points in the Badgers' final game to set an all-time conference record.

Rehfeldt will close out his basketball career against Minnesota at Minneapolis Saturday. The Gophers held him to 14 points earlier this season, but Rehfeldt has gained momentum for the final drive.

The lanky Badger center picked up 37 points during last weekend's two games to enter the season's finale with a total of 244 points—an average of 22.1.

Conference statisticians figure Rehfeldt's four-year total at 653 points and his three-year total at 606. They say each is a new Big Ten record.

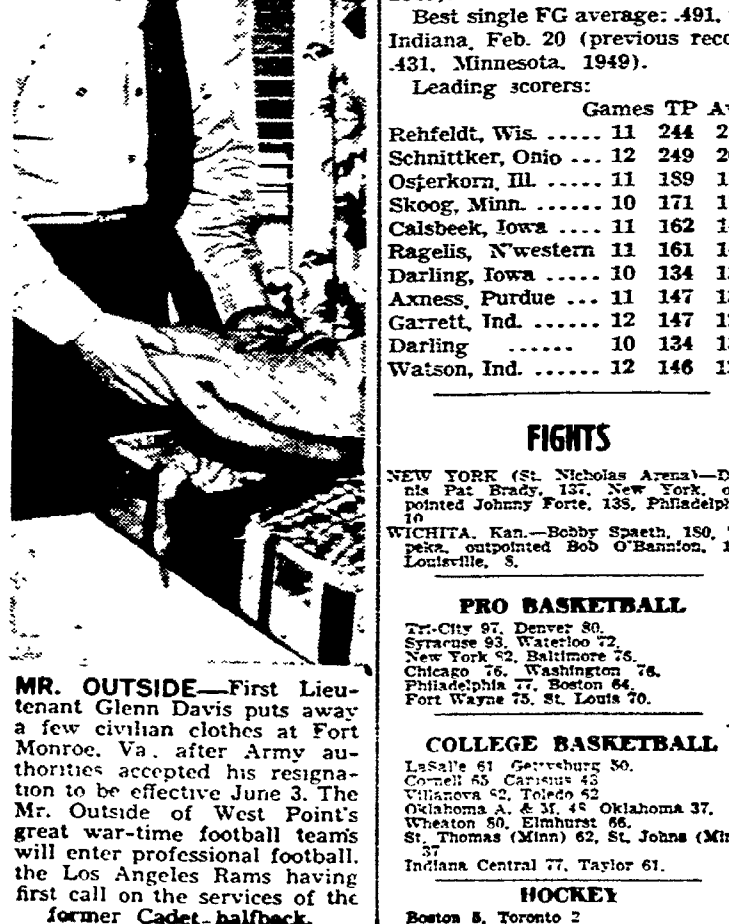

However, Rehfeldt still trails the conference season record of 272 set by Iowa's Murray Wier in 1948.

Dick Schnitker of Ohio, No. 2 scorer in the Big Ten, completed his college career with 249 points for an average of 20.7. He also got credit for two new individual records—a new free throw percentage (13 of 13 against Indiana)—and most free throws (91).

The Federal Forest Service agreed to permit department wildlife studies and developments of ponds and lakes, wild life food patches and forest cultural treatments.

All forest facilities normally used in wildlife work will be available to the state agency provided they are not in use by the forest service.

The department also agreed to start regulations to permit harvest or surplus animals before the food supply is depleted, and to cooperate in prevention and suppression of forest fires.

Big Ten Indoor Track Meet Is Due Tomorrow

Champaign, Ill., March 2.—(AP)—Four new records may crystallize in what is expected to be an exceptionally hotly-contested Big Ten indoor track and field championship meet opening tomorrow night with the preliminaries.

The 40th annual carnival, if it follows pattern, should develop into a dog fight for team honors between Michigan, aiming for its 16th title, and Ohio State, 1949 indoor co-champion with Wisconsin. The finals are Saturday afternoon.

Michigan generally is being conceded 33 to 37 points with its well-balanced outfit while Ohio State figures on paper to bag from 30 to 34. Purdue, Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois figure in a third place battle.

Sophomores, and what they might do under championship pressure after proving sensational in dual meets, hold the key. The mile run shapes up as the most spectacular in conference history with a pair of sophomores, Michigan's Don McEwen and Ohio's Len Truex, bidding against defending champion Don Gehrmann of Wisconsin.

The race may be so hard pressed that the mile record of 4:11.1 set by Chuck Fenske of Wisconsin in 1938 will topple. Truex stepped a fancy 4:10.7 last Saturday. McEwen has done 4:11.7 and Gehrmann 4:12.7.

Truex also is tabbed to challenge Gehrmann's supremacy in the 880. The Wisconsin ace has a 1:51.1 to his credit, bettering his own Big Ten mark of 1:53.1 set last year.

McEwen is expected to take the two mile in Record time. He already has blistered the distance in 9:06.9, nearly a full four seconds off the record 9:10.7 by Michigan's Ralph Schwarzkopt in 1940.

The fourth mark in jeopardy is the 14 foot 1 1/2 inch pole vault record notched in 1939 by Wisconsin's Milt Padway. Don Laz of Illinois appears a cinch to top it after official leaps of 14-5 1/2 and 14-3 1/2.

Other best efforts of the indoor season include: 60-yard dash—0:6.2 by Clark Rice of Minnesota and sophomore Marcellus Boston of Iowa; 440—49.7 by Frank Harter of Purdue and 50.9 by Hunter Gibertson of Illinois; 70 yard hurdles—0:8.6 by Russ Merkel of Iowa and Fred Brass of Minnesota; 70-yard lows—0:7.9 by Merkel and 0:8.0 by Du Wayne Dietz of Iowa.

High jump—6 feet 5 inches by Lou Irons, Illinois; broad jump—24 feet 4 1/2 inches by Don Leuthold, Illinois; shot put 55 feet 1 inch by Chuck Fonville of Michigan; mile relay—3:20.2 by Purdue and 3:22.4 by Ohio State.

Ohio State set four conference records en route to its 1950 championship. In winning 11 out of 12 conference games, Ohio State set these records:

Most points for season: 787 (previous record 783, Illinois, 1949).

Most free throws: 221 (previous record 209, Purdue, 1949).

Best field goal average: .352 (previous record .320, Minnesota, 1949).

Best single FG average: .491, vs. Indiana, Feb. 20 (previous record .431, Minnesota, 1949).

Marion Speaks Against Bonus

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 2.—(AP)—Major league baseball players are quietly but efficiently launching a campaign to kill off all payments of bonuses to un-proved players.

Marty Marion, National league representative to the Players' Committee, revealed he planned to present to the executive council at its next meeting a proposal to eliminate the payment of any kind of bonus to such players.

"I have been discussing this problem with representatives of other clubs," the star shortstop of the St. Louis Cardinals said, "and we all agree that something must be done. We feel that not only do payments of large bonuses to untried players deprive the proven players of money to which they are entitled but tends to cause dissension and disharmony on a ball club."

Puterbaugh's 23 Points Are Tops for Tilt

Sterling Township fought off the terrific pressure applied by Sterling Community in the Dixon regional last night and won a 58-43 victory. The Golden Warriors are now assured of a place in the TICKETS AVAILABLE There will be plenty of good seats available for the Dixon-Rock Falls basketball game tonight. At least 1000 down stairs and 250 balcony seats will be placed on sale at the boxoffice. The ticket window opens at 7 p m and the semi-final game gets under way at 7:45.

Roger Puterbaugh hit 21 of the first 23 points scored by the winners. Moving in and out of the pivot, he was impossible to stop. The Warrior ace had his hook shot working to perfection. He pulled his team from a 6-6 deadlock to a 21-10 advantage midway through the second quarter.

The Sterling Warriors held a 26 to 16 lead at the half. Community fought back to outscore the Township five 16-14 in the third period, but could only climb to within eight points of the eventual winners. The Comets trailed 40-32 at this point.

It was the thrilling fourth period that had a capacity crowd screaming and booing. Chuck Hellem hit a push shot from the side as the last quarter opened. The Comets were moving up with a 34 point total. Larry Zitkus, dropped a field goal for two more. Then Bill Wahl, who improved steadily throughout the game, brought Community to within two points of the Golden Warriors by caging a hook shot. Sterling Township led only 40-38.

Roger Puterbaugh missed much of the last half. He had four early fouls and Coach Gene Hall saved him for a critical moment. This was it, and Big Roger produced. His field goal gave the Golden Warriors a 42-38 lead. Kaiser added another and pushed the total to 44 for Township. There were three and one-half minutes to play. Puterbaugh fouled out at this point. Kaiser netted a field shot for the 46th point. Wahl's free toss gave the Comets a 39 total but they were falling behind.

When Cadillac says New...
...it's News!

WHEN Cadillac announces that basic changes have been made in its design, it means the Standard of the World has once again been raised.

And that, of course, is news of the first magnitude. This year, the number of Cadillac changes is far, far greater than is normally announced.

There is, of course, glamorous new beauty. All the bodies have been completely restyled and redesigned and are simply gorgeous in their line and contour.

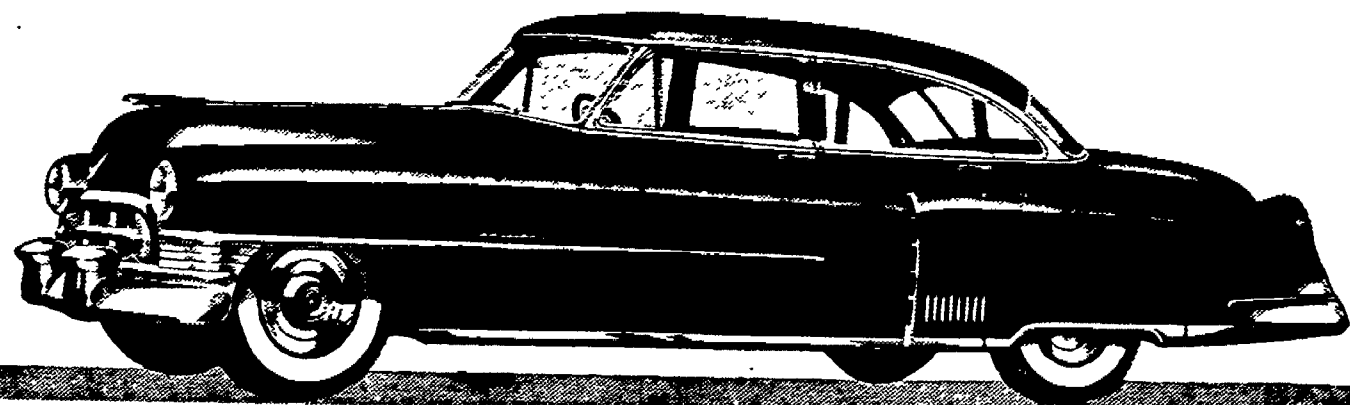

The great new Cadillac high-compression engine has undergone a host of refinements which enhance every phase of its performance.

Road balance and handling ease are remarkably improved. Steering is easier; braking is softer; and the car's stability on turns and curves is phenomenal. Almost all the effort has been taken out of driving.

Yes—this is a Cadillac "vintage" year—when its engineering and designing and manufacturing have all produced at their superlative best.

Better come in—and come up . . . to Cadillac.

Bank Cashier Admits Phony Holdup Story

English, Ind., March 2—(AP)—A bank cashier who the FBI said admitted faking a burglary to cover up theft of $21,779 was held in jail for the federal grand jury today under $25,000 bond.

Kenneth W. Boldt, 46, cashier of the First National bank of nearby Milltown, was arrested yesterday, 30 hours after he reported the bank had been burglarized.

Had Heavy Debts
Harvey G. Foster, agent in charge of the Indianapolis FBI office, said Boldt admitted taking the money, explaining only he was heavily in debt.

Foster said Boldt led officers to his farm near Milltown and dug up $19,099 hidden in glass jars and a concrete pipe underneath his barn. He said Boldt related he had deposited the rest of the money to his own account in the bank. Boldt was arrested on charges of forging signatures on notes and misappropriating funds. Foster said the charges were filed after officers noted irregularities in his records and the confession followed.

The cashier reported Monday morning the bank had been burglarized over the weekend. A hasp holding a wire screen on a rear window had been cut, and combinations of the vault and safe inside had been worked, although the latter was protected by a time lock set for 7:30 a. m.

Teaches Sunday School
Boldt, a lifelong resident of Milltown, a community of 745 population 30 miles west of Louisville, Ky., had been the bank's cashier since 1946. He had been a farmer and an insurance agent and is Crawford county assessor. He formerly served as a trustee of Whiskey Run township and as superintendent of Sunday school at the Milltown Methodist church. His wife is deputy county assessor. They have twin sons, 18 years old.

Boldt waived preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner T. J. Jackson in federal court at New Albany yesterday and was bound over to the federal grand jury at Indianapolis. He was held in the Clark county jail at Jeffersonville in default of bond.

Cave May Give Trace Of Earliest Humans

Tuebingen, Germany, March 2—(AP)—A large cave which may reveal traces of human beings who lived 300,000 to 500,000 years ago has been discovered near here. Experts found the bones of giant bears and other bones which may have been the remains of early man.

Tuebingen lies 10 miles south of Heidelberg, where the remains of the "Heidelberg man" who lived about 600,000 years ago were found.

Lustron RFC Target, Says Company Men

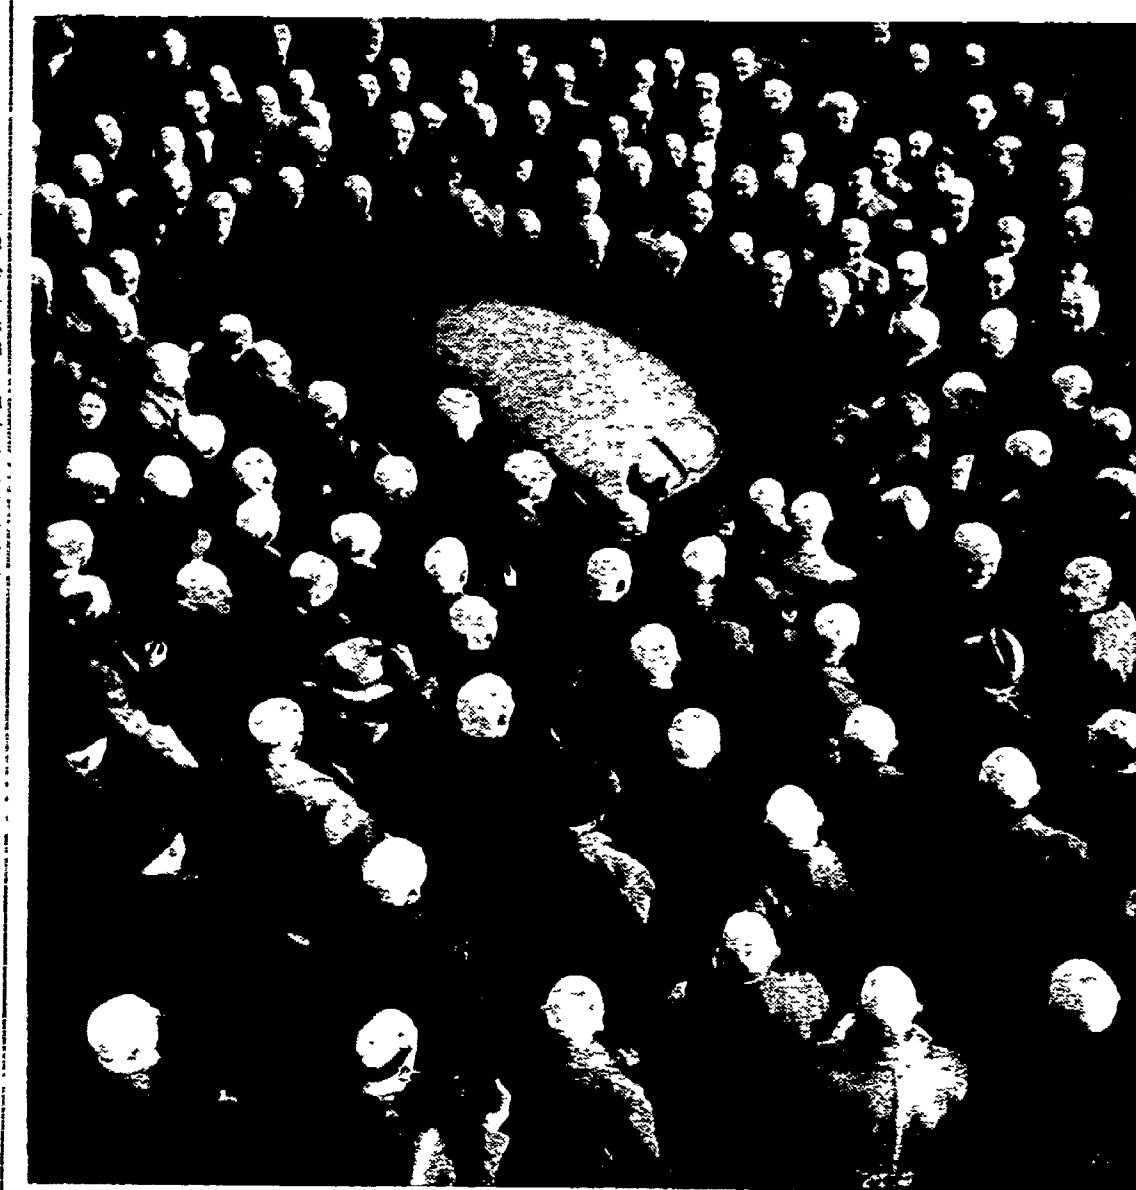

Washington, March 2—(AP)—Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.) said today the Reconstruction Finance Corp. will be called before congress to answer charges that it is "out to kill" the prefabricated housing industry.

The accusations were leveled against the multi-million dollar government lending agency in connection with its foreclosure action against the Lustron Corp., a big prefabricated manufacturer in Columbus, O. Members of the senate banking committee are looking into the Lustron transaction.

Tells of Edifice
Leo Goodman, director of the CIO National Housing committee, told the senators yesterday he has evidence that RFC "did everything to prevent the use of Lustron houses" in armed services projects. He added:

"I charge specifically that the RFC is out to kill this industry." A group of Lustron dealers declared at yesterday's hearing that the RFC filed its receivership suit against Lustron just as the firm was about to start earning a profit. The suit is under way before the U. S. district court in Columbus.

W. W. Lobdell of Rockford, Ill., who led the dealers' group, said that just 97 of the nation's 221

Lustron dealers could sell 8,102 of the steel and porcelain houses in the next 12 months.

The RFC based its foreclosure suit in part on an engineering survey which indicated Lustron could earn a profit if it sold that many houses. The RFC survey indicated there was little prospect the company ever would sell many more than 1,000 a year.

Lobdell complained that RFC

Chairman Harley Hise refused to hear him before the suit got under way, and did not seem impressed with Lobdell's figures when he finally saw them.

Lobdell said the market for Lustron homes has survived the receivership action, and there has been "a rush to buy before the plant closes."

Scientists Say Vaccine Against Polio Successful

Chicago, March 2—(AP)—Scientists have disclosed they have developed a vaccine that has immunized 90 per cent of experimental animals against one form of infantile paralysis.

In a report to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, researchers at Michael Reese hospital here said they obtained the vaccine by bombarding polio virus with a new type of ultra violet light.

They also said they are aiming at a form of the vaccine that will be safe and effective against each of the presently known three types of polio. The report said, however, that much more work must be done to refine the procedure before human trials of the vaccine can be attempted.

COMMUNITY WELFARE REQUIRES CONTINUED PUBLIC COOPERATION

SUMMARY OF ILLINOIS COMMERCE COMMISSION ORDER RESTRICTING USE OF ELECTRICITY

"No user of electricity, other than a public water supply or sewage disposal system or public street lighting system, shall, during the seven-day period February 27, 1950 to March 5, 1950, inclusive, and during each successive seven-day period thereafter until otherwise ordered by the Commission, use more than 75% of such customer's average weekly use of electricity during January 1950. A customer's average weekly use during January 1950 shall be deemed to be seven times the daily average number of kilowatt-hours used by him in his meter reading period which ended in January, 1950."

Compliance with the electricity restriction order of the Illinois Commerce Commission has, on the whole, been good. We are especially appreciative of the splendid cooperation shown by users whose operations depend almost completely on electricity but whose ingenuity and resourcefulness have enabled them to find ways of complying with the restrictions.

Reductions in use of electricity become more vital to the community each day the coal crisis is prolonged. This emergency affects all the homes, businesses, industries and institutions in this area. Every user of electricity is therefore urged, not only to be sure his reductions during the first seven-day period ending next Monday morning amount at least to the 25% required, but to review again his use of service to see if savings beyond this percentage can be accomplished.

Wire Basket Mystery Has New York Cops Buffaloed

New York, March 2—(AP)—The great wire basket mystery has New York police running around in circles.

Somebody is stealing wire trash baskets from the streets. Hundreds, in fact—316 in mid-Manhattan in the first five weeks, or about 10 a day.

Who? How? Why? The police, red-faced and hot under the collar, say it's got them beat.

"No baskets have been recovered to date," admits Police Department Secretary Frank Doyle.

The city, in a burst of tidiness, put out 4,500 shiny new baskets last Jan. 23. They're big—34 inches high. They're heavy—45 pounds. They stand on crowded streets. The cops watch them as if they were filled with emeralds.

Still they disappear. "I ask myself who would be wanting basket," says Officer Wilfred O'Mahoney "and I tell myself—hah! Apartment house superintendents."

"So I scout around behind apartment houses and what do I find? Cats. Laundry. Milk bottles. But legal boughten-and-paid-for baskets. Not our baskets. Not hide nor hair of them."

You can get plenty of tips from sidewalk Sherlock.

"Out-of-towners take 'em. Use 'em to burn leaves."

But who burns leaves in February or March?

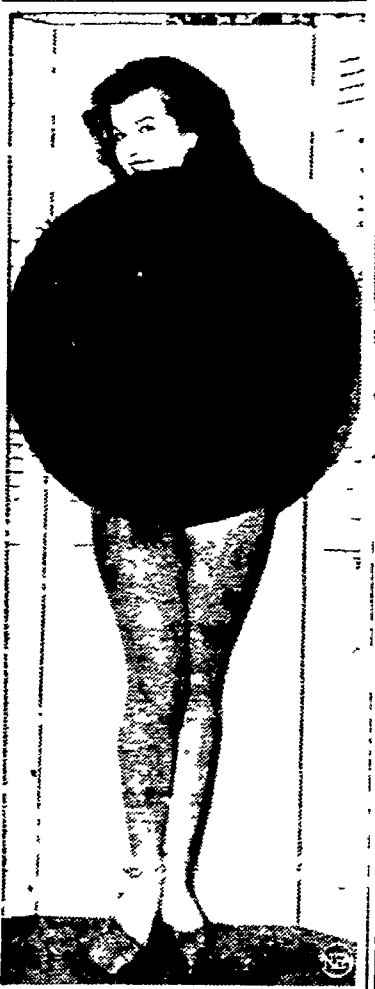

"Bird-fanciers are doing it. The baskets would make wonderful parrot cages."

Hmmm. Three hundred sixteen larcenous parrot-keepers in five weeks?

Rollo Bacorn Wins Hospital Release

(Telegraph Special Service)

Moline, Mar. 2—Rollo Bacorn, of Ohio, Bureau county, was ordered released from the East Moline state hospital by Circuit Judge Ray L. Kuehnel late Monday, following a hearing on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

The court found that Bacorn "if ever in need of mental treatment was not in need of it now." The petition for the writ on which Bacorn was brought into court was filed by a friend, Col. E. Wise, East Moline.

Bacorn was committed to the institution on Dec. 31, 1948 after a commission in the Bureau county court found him "not mentally ill but in need of mental treatment." In the petition for the writ, an affidavit by a local psychiatrist attested "Bacorn no longer needed treatment, if he had ever needed it."

Decatur Classroom Work Is Profitable

Decatur, Ill., March 2—(AP)—Members of the building trades classes at Decatur high school built a house. They didn't have to wait long to learn that they had done a good job. Within two days, it was sold for the asking price—$1,500.

Harrison Spangler Victim of Burglar

Palm Springs, Calif., March 2—(AP)—Harrison E. Spangler of Cedar Rapids, Ia., former chairman of the Republican national committee, was burglarized of $22,700 in jewelry last night.

The job was laid to a "Raffles" burglar who has been making quite a haul recently in this desert playground of movie stars and millionaires.

The National Geographic Society says the first white man to see the Teton range in western Wyoming was John Colter, in termed himself a former Peoria slot machine collector, filed suit in Tazewell county circuit court asking that an order be issued directing Sheriff Herbert L. Hirstein to enforce the state gaming laws.

McGrane withdrew his petition a few days ago, explaining, "My purpose has been accomplished—" gambling has been stopped in Tazewell county."

The slot machines and lucky jars reappeared in Pekin stores and taverns. The crap and poker games opened up again. It appeared that nominal arrests and fines were going to swell the city's income again.

But, this week, gambling activity was not in sight. What clamped the damper on it wasn't explained officially. But the consensus in the merchants' establishments was that the owners of gaming equipment fear the sheriff's men will confiscate it.

So far as known, there is no running water, no atmosphere, and no vegetation on the moon.

Red Cross Honors 159 Persons for 'Meritorious Acts' in 1949

Washington—One day last summer, 12-year-old Gwen Anglesy, of Rigby, Ida., heard excited cries from the bank of a nearby canal. A neighbor's youngster, two-year-old Dickie Bryce, had fallen into the water and was being carried downstream.

Gwen jumped into the canal, swam out to the boy and brought him to shore. Then, noting that he wasn't breathing, she applied artificial respiration and succeeded in reviving the child. She was credited with saving his life.

For her quick action and skillful use of swimming and first aid techniques, Gwen was one of 159 persons who received American Red Cross certificates of merit in 1949. The award, limited to those who have successfully completed a Red Cross course in first aid, swimming or life saving, is given for performing a meritorious act in saving or attempting to save a life.

A few weeks later and a thousand miles away, Richard A. Sedn, a public utilities employee in St. Paul, Minn., arrived on the scene shortly after five men had been hit by an automobile while waiting to board a street car.

Sedn noticed that one victim was unconscious and bleeding profusely from a face cut. He applied pressure to stop the bleeding and maintained it until a police ambulance arrived. Doctors said his action saved the victim's life.

In Tuscaloosa, Ala., high school student Bobbie Jack Bradberry applied artificial respiration to an electrocuted baby for 30 minutes before the child began to breathe. The year-old youngster had touched a live wire and apparently was dead when Bobbie Jack began his first aid treatment. He and Sedn also received Red Cross awards.

Instituted in 1928, the awards are designed to recognize outstanding instances of prompt and skillful use of knowledge gained in Red Cross first aid or water safety courses. The life-saving act must be conclusively proved before the award is given.

Recognition has also been given for knowing what not to do in an emergency.

In a freak accident near Pasco, Wash., an 11-year-old boy was impaled on the hood ornament of an automobile. Some eight inches of steel was buried deep in his abdomen. When Bruce Lee, an emergency ambulance attendant, arrived at the scene he noted that there was little bleeding and realized that serious injury might result if the youngster was moved.

For an hour and a half, while doctors were being located and brought to the scene, Lee resisted the pressure of an angry crowd of spectators demanding that he move the boy. When the doctors arrived, his judgment in not doing so was vindicated. The youngster and a portion of the car were taken to hospital and the ornament removed by surgery. Lee was given full credit for minimizing the injury and possibly saving the boy's life.

The 1949 group of award winners is a good cross-section of America. Included are housewives, industrial workers, farmers, students, members of the armed forces, and law enforcement officers. One certificate recipient is a brigadier general; another, an Army corporal. A father was recognized for saving his son. A storekeeper saved a boy who was choking on a candy jaw-breaker.

And a national forest foreman received the award for saving his own life. His prompt application of pressure to a severed facial artery saved him from bleeding to death

Truman Plans 'Brain Trust' For Cold War

Washington, March 2—(AP)—A plan designed to provide greater unity for the government's foreign and domestic economic policies was reported today to be under consideration at the White House.

The proposal, on which President Truman will have the final decision, was initiated in the State Department. This was in line with a belief of Secretary Acheson that the United States must prepare to fight the cold war in a more complete manner than it has heretofore.

Wide Representation

It is understood that the proposal provides for an interdepartmental committee, composed of representatives of such agencies as state, treasury, commerce, and agriculture, which would function under White House direction. Provision is also made for a White House coordinator to direct the work of the committee.

Acheson and some other high government officials have argued that a realignment of American domestic economic policies in some degree is necessary to make this nation's foreign economic policies fully effective.

For example, he favors tariff reductions and other measures which would open up American markets to greater sales of foreign goods. The idea is to promote prosperity and economic stability in other areas, especially western Europe.

Some State Department officials also say that the United States should consider the effect of its domestic agricultural programs on the world generally. They particularly want a study of whether a foreign use may be found for this nation's agricultural surpluses that would help the anti-Communist world.

One Real Problem

Perhaps the greatest problem involved lies in the field of European recovery. Acheson, ECA Administrator Paul Hoffman and other top officials have already begun to work on the problem of what to do after the European recovery program dies in 1952.

Preliminary estimates indicate that the European Marshall Plan countries, on the basis of present conditions, would still have a gap during a 45-minute trip to a doctor's office.

In all last year, 138 men or boys and 21 women or girls were honored by the Red Cross for their life-saving efforts. They came from 36 states, Hawaii and the District of Columbia.

State Had A Record Wet in January, '50

Springfield, Ill., March 2—(AP)—Illinois had a record wet January this year. It was pretty warm, too—warmest since 1939.

The Weather Bureau said yesterday precipitation, mainly rain, averaged heavier and reached as much as 10 inches in some southern areas. Snowfall was much below the seasonal average.

Temperatures, averaging well above normal, went to a high of 76 degrees one day at East St. Louis and at Harrisburg.

Some PMW Refuse to Go Back to Work

Chicago, March 2—(AP)—More than 1,600 of the state's Progressive Mine Workers have decided to ignore the back-to-work order of their union president.

One of the first locals to vote on the order, the big 1,600-member unit at Gillespie, announced its intention last night in the familiar wordage—"No contract, no work."

Another local with 21 members in Peoria also voted to stay out of the mines until a wage contract had been reached.

Union President John Marchiondo yesterday ordered the Progressive's week-long strike ended under a 30-day extension of their contract with the Coal Producers Association of Illinois. He instructed the 10,000 union members to return to their jobs today.

The 30-day truce was viewed as the most cheering note in the increasingly critical fuel situation since the nation-wide walkout of United Mine Workers on Feb. 6.

The Progressives produce more than a fifth of the state's coal, or between 1,200,000 and 1,500,000 tons a month. Encouraged by Marchiondo's order, Gov. Adlai Stevenson said the union's resumption of work "should help relieve the needs of individuals and industrial plants who are suffering for lack of fuel."

Although the Progressive's strike did not become effective until Feb. 21, several hundred of them had left the pits before that date in protest of extended negotiations which had failed to yield a contract.

Their demands are substantially the same as those of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers with respect to direct pay—a wage boost of 95 cents a day to $15, and a royalty payment by mine operators of 35 cents a ton into the union's welfare fund.

Girls! Let's Get Rid of the Babushkas! You Look Terrible in 'em Anyway, Really!

That little paragraph in the Chicago Tribune, which compared a babushka to a "Soviet inspired, regimented rag" continues to make itself felt throughout the country. Last week, in Astoria, Oregon, a radio commentator condemned scarves over the air, saying they made Astoria girls "look like peasants." Oregon newspapers picked up the cry, and as a result, millinery may soon replace babushkas in many cities in the Pacific Northwest.

Radio commentator Bob Holmes, in Astoria, mindful of the turore created by Jim Savage in Chicago, devoted part of a recent broadcast to condemning scarves as un-American. He said girls in Astoria looked like peasants when wearing the babushkas. Within 24 hours many Astoria listeners were telephoning the station, applauding or decrying Holmes' stand.

Newspaper Interest
The day after the broadcast, reporters and photographers for the Astoria Budget, the local newspaper, went to the radio station and interviewed feminine members of the staff, all of whom had made a bee-line for a millinery salon following the broadcast. The newspaper subsequently printed a picture of three of the employees, all of whom wore the new hats.

Rotarians Are Kept Guessing Membership

Chicago, March 2—(AP)—Members of Rotary clubs are engaged in a guessing game these days. They're trying to figure out how large the organization will be when they celebrate its 50th birthday anniversary in 1955.

Paul Harris and three friends started the club Feb. 23, 1905. They called it Rotary because the early sessions were held in rotation in the offices of members. At latest count, there were 334,000 members and 6,960 clubs in 85 countries.

Alfred Tisch, chairman of Rotary's extension committee, came up with the idea for the guessing game. "We can," he guesses, "have 10,000 clubs and 500,000 members by 1955."

Just Like Dixon, Philly Has Trouble

Philadelphia, March 2—(AP)—The nation's third largest city may soon go into the parking business. Philadelphia Mayor Bernard Samuel has appointed a five-member city parking authority "to study and try to solve the traffic congestion problem."

The mayor said the city might construct underground parking sites to relieve traffic tie-ups.

Mountain streams and artesian wells provide the water supply of Salt Lake City.

Modern Morality Fable on How World Came to an End

By HAL BOYLE
New York—(AP)—There came a time when the earth was divided into two hemispheres, the east and the west.

Great was the contention between them, and each charged the other with seeking to rule the world. And the hemispheres became armed camps.

There were then 4,000,000,000 people in the world. No man's mouth was free to speak his yearning, and all men bent under the burden of readying their hemisphere against the enemy.

Nine-tenths of every drop of sweat, every yard of cloth, every pound of gold, every ton of steel was spent to "safeguard the peace."

It chanced that on a warm and moonless night in April the island of Bermuda disappeared, with a titanic crash, beneath the surface of the sea.

Three hours later a 50-square-mile area of forestland in Siberia erupted in broken greenery from the impact of a gigantic force.

The chancelleries of the world held hurried conferences and agreed:

Hydrogen Bomb Heads
"Counterattack!"

And the engines of war were unleashed. Each side sent up huge guided missiles, carrying hydrogen bombs in their warheads.

Where they landed, cities or landscapes disappeared.

The bombs mushroomed by the hundreds, then by the thousands. And great winds arose and carried the dust of death over every land. In six weeks every man, woman and child, every bird, every beast, was gone. The trees gave up their leaves, the moss turned white, and no ant crawled.

The last thing on earth to die was a worm four miles south of Oak Ridge, Tenn. It was washed out of the soil by a radio-active rain—and collapsed.

Then the spectral spirits of earth's 4,000,000,000 people flew in a vast host to the gold bar of Heaven. The gates opened, and the

Baked Apples, Novel Dish

IMPROVE BAKED APPLES—While apples are abundant, serve baked Winesaps with marshmallows and nuts for a novelty dessert.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Boiled Apple Dumplings (Serves 8)

Apples are abundant and good. It's delicious economy to use them often. But use them intelligently and give them new interest.

Marshmallow Nut Baked Apples
Four Winesap apples, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 cup seeded raisins, 4 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, 1/2 cup water, marshmallows, walnuts.

Wash and dry apples, core carefully, then pare one-third of the skin away from the blossom end. Combine brown sugar, raisins, cinnamon and softened butter or margarine. Pack this mixture into apple cores and place apples on a rack in the bottom of a saucepan or skillet. Add water, cover and steam slowly until apples are tender, about 50 minutes.

Place a marshmallow on top of each apple, slide under broiler for a few minutes until marshmallow is melted. Dot with halved or chopped walnuts.

Ever try Freda DeKnight's Boiled Apple Dumplings?

Two cups sifted flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 6 tablespoons shortening, cinnamon, 1/2 cup milk, 8 small apples, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon butter, 1 tablespoon sugar, crabapple jelly.

Set together flour, baking powder, salt and 1 tablespoon sugar. Cut shortening in with pastry blender. Add milk gradually to form a soft dough. Knead lightly. Roll out to 1/4-inch thickness. Cut into eight squares. Pare and core 8 apples. Place one in the center of each square.

Fill each cavity with 1 tablespoon sugar and sprinkle with cinnamon. Add 1/2 teaspoon butter and 1 tablespoonful crabapple jelly. Fold dough over apple lightly. Put each dumpling into small, coarse, well-floured cloth.

After dipping in hot water, tie cloth securely, but leave room enough for dumpling to swell. Put in pot of boiling water and boil 45 minutes. Serve with sweet sauce.

Here Are The Facts About Washing Without Rinsing

- Will this method get clothes really clean? Yes, Tide keeps the dirt suspended in the sudsy water. When you wring out the clothes, the dirt runs out with the wash-water—and clothes come from the wringer CLEAN... and as bacteria-free as rinsed clothes.
- Will clothes come white? Yes, dazzling white! It is almost impossible to tell the difference between a rinsed, and an unrinsed Tide-washed white shirt.
- How about ironing unrinsed clothes? When you wash with Tide—without rinsing—clothes dry soft and fluffy... iron easily.
- Is this method safe for fabrics? Yes, it is safe... skipping the rinsing and extra wringings actually saves wear and tear on clothes.

TIDE GETS CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY OTHER WASHING PRODUCT OF ITS TYPE WITHOUT RINSING

SAVE SO MUCH TIME ON WASHDAY!
SAYS MRS. JOY MAYO OF PORTLAND, MAINE
"No more rinsing is wonderful news for every woman who washes clothes! It's such a timesaver to take the wash right from the Tide suds, put it through the wringer, and onto the line! And everything looks so bright and clean!"

Admiral Denfield Lost Out For Frankness, Says Group

Washington, March 2—(AP)—The house armed services committee branded the removal of Admiral Louis Denfeld as chief of naval operations last fall as a "reprisal" for his "frank and honest" criticism of unification and national defense planning.

The committee released its formal report on investigations into the interservice row today, the same day that Denfeld after nearly 38 years active duty, retired rather than accept another job.

Denfeld was one of a number of high military witnesses called before the house committee last October after letters released by Capt. John Crommelin, navy flier, disclosed opposition to phases of the unification program.

Crommelin Muzzled Crommelin, transferred to the west coast, revealed yesterday he had been ordered by the new chief of naval operations Admiral Forrest P. Sherman to clear in advance of any public speeches he makes.

The report considered a number of controversial matters on unification and strategy, only on Denfeld was there a difference of opinion in the committee.

A majority of 23 members endorsed the findings, with ten of these objecting, however, that the report was too weak.

A minority of eight members (all Democrats), found it too strong.

The ten members, one Democrat and nine Republicans, urged the attorney general consider charges against Secretary of the Navy Matthews under a 1948 law which forbids the influencing or intimidating of congressional witnesses. Their action was embodied in a supplementary statement filed with the committee.

Matthews removed Denfeld following his appearance before the committee, but insisted later it was not for Denfeld's testimony.

Rep. Walsh (D-Ind) criticized the "prepared report" and its views on Denfeld's ouster as in the unification program.

YOUR PIES CAN'T FAIL WITH FLAKO[®] PIE CRUST MIX

Just think! Every pie you bake with Flako turns out perfectly at every baking. That's because the ingredients are precision-mixed. No guesswork, therefore no failures. You simply add water, roll and bake.

tended to embarrass President Truman and defense officials.

Unholy Alliance?

"Again it clearly shows," he said in a statement yesterday, "the unholy alliance between Democrats and Republicans."

The committee report rapped all three services for the bickering over unification policies. The recommendations, mostly aimed at patching up the quarrels and shoring up the nation's military power, ranged over a wide field. They included:

1—Revision of the present set up of the joint chiefs of staffs, because it "does not insure at all times adequate consideration for the views of all services."

2—Prompt establishment of a joint training center to develop a closer relationship among Marine corps aviation, army field forces and the air force in close air support tactics and methods.

3—A study by the national security council, top defense agency, of atomic warfare and this country's strategic planning for use of atomic weapons.

4—Much greater "cross education" among the services. It suggested more joint training centers to remove lack of understanding which breeds suspicion, rivalry and questioning of motives."

Water meters were introduced in Rome about 100 A. D. to prevent waste.

Animals Get Laughs On TV the Easy Way

Chicago, March 2—Animals can get laughs on television without any help from gag writers. Take, for instance, Herbert, the orangutan. He was in the midst of his unicycle ride on the super circus show when he decided to pad his part. He stopped, picked up the wheel and threw it at the band leader.

Herbert was doing a roller skating turn when the urge to ad lib seized him again. He snatched off a skate and hurled it through the bass drum. He got his laughs—and the hook, too.

Wanted Mule Train So He Makes One !!

North Hollywood, Calif., March 2—(AP)—A. J. McKnight, 60, who handles horses and mules for movie studios, has always wanted to drive a 20-mule team. The closest he's come to this ambition was 30 years ago when he enviously watched a team clippety-clop across the wastes of Death Valley. A year ago he settled for the next best thing—make believe.

With clay and wood he settled down to making a scale model of a fully equipped team in action. Now McKnight has a replica authentic down to the last harness buckle.

Night Clubbing in Tel Aviv Quite Dull

Tel Aviv, March 2—(AP)—If you're looking for a night club,

"austere" Israel isn't the place to find it. The best that can be done along that line is to find a restaurant or cafe where there's a lone piano player, or sometimes a small orchestra for dancing.

Israel and Jordan Ready to Sign Peace
Jerusalem, March 2—(AP)—Israel and Hashemite Jordan appeared today to be on the verge of signing a non-aggression pact to end the tension that has gripped divided Jerusalem since the Arab-Jewish war ended in 1948.

Informed sources said that secret peace negotiations which have been going on spasmodically for many weeks now have reached the point where the governments of both countries are considering terms.

'Big Mo' Grounding Probers Deliberate
Norfolk, Va., March 1—(AP)—A three-man naval court of inquiry began a study today of facts assembled during its 18-day investigation of the January 17 grounding of the Battleship Missouri.

The court will deliberate several days before submitting its recommendations and findings. It must wade through more than 1,000 pages of testimony given during the hearings, which ended yesterday.

Many Germans Leave Churches; Too Costly
Haver, March 2—(AP)—The number of Germans withdrawing from church membership has increased nearly 500 per cent since 1947 in the state of Lower Saxony, a state official disclosed. In 1949, he said, 13,453 withdrew from the church, compared with 6,037 withdrawals in 1948 and 2,496 in 1947.

The official said most of the withdrawals were due to "material" reasons—indicating reluctance or inability to pay the church taxes required of church members. In Germany, if a person declares himself a member of any church, his church taxes are collected by state tax collectors along with his governmental taxes. Lower Saxony is mostly Protestant.

Church Prelate Says Atom Accord With Russia Is Important

Jork, England, March 2—(AP)—The Archbishop of York said today that Britain and the United States should make a new attempt without delay to reach an atomic agreement with Russia.

Dr. Cyril F. Garbett, second ranking prelate in the Church of England, echoed Winston Churchill's recent proposal to seek agreement "on the highest level."

Spaghetti a Meatless Treat

MEATLESS TREAT—A large platter of spaghetti with Bordelaise sauce makes a welcome meatless main dish.

For a special dish on a meatless day, here's a sumptuous answer.

Spaghetti with Bordelaise Sauce (Makes 4-8 servings)

One-third cup olive oil, 1 medium onion, chopped, one 4-ounce can sliced or chopped mushrooms, 1 peeled whole clove garlic, 2 No. 2 cans tomato puree, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon chopped or dried basil salt and pepper, 1 cup chopped cooked spinach, 1 tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 8 ounces spaghetti.

Place olive oil in skillet. Add onion, mushrooms and garlic and saute until onions are tender. Remove garlic. Add tomato puree, parsley, basil and salt and pepper to taste. Cook 25 minutes or until sauce thickens, stirring occasionally.

Add spinach and cook 10 minutes longer. Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook, uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Turn spaghetti into center of a large plate. Pour sauce around the spaghetti. Garnish spaghetti with finely chopped parsley, if desired. Serve at once.

If you like your spaghetti with sumptuous sauces, try it with seafood creole sauce, creamed shrimp, shrimp curry sauce or mushroom sauce and creamed eggs.

Here's another novel main dish:

Caraway Cheese Omelet (Serves 4 to 5)

Four eggs, separated, 1/2 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, 1/4 cup milk, 1 tablespoon butter, 1/2 cup shredded cheddar cheese, 2 slices bacon, cooked, 1/2 teaspoon caraway seed, parsley if desired.

Beat egg yolks until thick and light. Add salt and pepper and milk. Fold into stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into buttered hot 9-inch frying or omelet pan. Cook over low heat until omelet puffs up and is golden brown on the bottom (about 3 to 5 minutes). Peek underneath by lifting edge of omelet with a spatula.

Sprinkle cheese, crumbled bacon and caraway seed on omelet and quickly place in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 10 to 15 minutes longer or until top springs back when pressed with finger. Make 1-inch cuts at opposite

R.A.F. Makes Plans For Jungle Rescues

Singapore, March 2—(AP)—The Royal Air Force has formed a rescue team which will strike through jungle to rescue crews and passengers of aircraft which crash during anti-terrorist operations.

Members of the first team are 25 men of R. A. F. ground crews. The task calls for a high degree of physical fitness, determination to overcome obstacles, disregard for discomfort and ability to read maps.

The unit carries weapons for self-defense against terrorists and hatchets to cut their way through jungle. It moves by jeep, abandoning this when necessary, always maintaining contact with headquarters.

New Government Scientific Agency to Become a Reality

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, March 2—(AP)—Back in 1941 President Roosevelt decided this country ought to have a program for developing young scientists.

This country has had a great genius in applied science, that is, putting into practical form and use discoveries made by scientists—for example, in electricity and the atom.

But scientists in this country felt the United States was lagging behind, not in applied science, but in basic research—for example, in discovering the nature of a virus.

Roosevelt handed to Dr. Vannevar Bush, head of the wartime office of scientific research and development, the job of preparing a program for scientific development after the war.

By the time Dr. Bush had completed his program in 1945, Roosevelt was dead. President Truman picked it up and banged away at congress to set up a new government agency, a scientific agency.

A number of hearings were held in congress, with many scientists urging creation of such an agency or scientific foundation through which the government could encourage scientific development.

In 1946 the senate passed a bill to do this but, since the house failed to follow suit, nothing came of it that year.

Truman Killed It

In 1947, both houses passed such a bill but Mr. Truman killed it with a veto. This was his reason:

Under that bill the president would appoint a board of 24 to head up the foundation but the board itself would pick the directors who'd run the show.

Since this deprived the president of the power to pick the director, Mr. Truman felt the director would be too free of presidential control.

So congress tackled the job all over again. Last year the senate passed another bill to set up a scientific foundation. Yesterday the house did the same.

There are some minor differences in the two bills. When the two houses get together and iron them out, the final, agreed-upon bill will go to Mr. Truman to be signed into law.

He's expected to sign it this time because the bills not only give him power to name the 24-man board—made up of scientists, educators and men distinguished in private life—but the director also.

Since the bill is not yet in its final form, precise details can not be given here. But, generally, this is the way the final bill will shape up:

The 24-man board will be able to hand out government money for things like these:

1. Scholarships and fellowships to undergraduates and graduates who are going to specialize in the natural sciences like engineering, mathematics, physics, chemistry.

2. These specialized people would do their work in basic research. Special work in other fields—like atomic energy, the cause of cancer and heart disease—would be handled by other government agencies already in existence for such purposes.
3. The board would try to correlate various scientific research projects.
4. It could help universities or even private organizations engaged in research considered important by the board, or for work that would help national defense.

Yoo-Hoo, Teachers You're Not Working

Elmira, N. Y., March 2—(AP)—A jury has ruled officially that it isn't work to teach someone to fry oysters. Mrs. Ruth Grange, a waitress, testified she wasn't working, but was instructing a novice cook, when inspectors called at Paul Battisti's cafe.

The jury acquitted Battisti of permitting a woman to work between midnight and 6 a. m.

Lamp Eases Ninth Life of This Cat

Santa Monica, Calif., March 2—(AP)—Snooky, an 18-year-old tomcat belonging to Leo Feldworth, was getting old. Frequent colds marred his enjoyment of life. Feldworth, an aircraft tool and die worker, decided to do something about it. He built a special bed atop Snooky's favorite snoozing place, the refrigerator. The bed was equipped with a hidden switch. Now whenever Snooky wants to nap—which is most of the time—the pressure of his body on the bed throws the switch, turning on a 100-watt infra-red heat lamp overhead.

The colds are gone and Snooky's happy. But Feldworth isn't. "Now Snooky won't even come out to eat," he says. "We have to hand food up to him. Breakfast in bed for a cat! Imagine."

Four-fifths of the water this country uses comes from streams and lakes. Wells provide the other 20 per cent.
